

KILLS 2 IN STREET ROBBERY

Twenty-eight policemen have been killed in Chicago in the last three years in the performance of duty. Nine were killed in 1919, ten were killed in 1920, six were killed in 1921, and three so far this year. For years the record of homicides has been one per day. This appalling record brought outbursts last night from official sources.

CHIEF FITZMORRIS—Again we have brought home to us the free use of the gun, the easy bail bond and the easy writ of habeas corpus. I have no doubt the man who killed Policeman Cassidy and the bank messenger are old criminals. Seventy-two policemen have been killed in the performance of their duty since 1905. When will the people of Chicago quit erecting tombstones for policemen martyred to disregard of law? When will we stop the totting of guns, the freeing of criminals through easy justice? Policeman Cassidy has given his life in a cause that is getting small support from the people.

STATES ATTORNEY CROWE—When enough good policemen have been shot down by criminals, it may mean on the people and on those who compose the courts and the juries that human life is worth more than the practices that connive at criminal safety. The death of Policeman Cassidy should move every citizen to cry out for stern application of justice.

British Votes to Deal With Russia
LOYD GEORGE WINS, 372-94, IN COMMONS
Calls Lenin's New Policy Sincere.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
LONDON, April 3.—Prime Minister David Lloyd George won a sweeping victory over his opponents in the house of commons this evening, when a vote of confidence in his government piled up a majority of 278. This sends the British prime minister to the European economic conference at Genoa with his hands strengthened for the colossal task of compromise and construction which he faces there.

After a long day of speech making and heckling, the house approached this evening the casting of the balance in the scales of power. The prime minister personally already had introduced the official resolution of confidence in his government. The government, extending its traditional prerogative, selected the labor amendment as the opposition motion to receive priority of consideration.

The Rejected Amendment.
This amendment was presented in behalf of the Labor party by John H. Clynes and read as follows: "While approving of an international economic and financial conference, this house regrets that the scope of the discussion at Genoa has been so circumscribed that the conference must fall short of a settlement of the political and economic evils which affect Europe, and it is of the opinion that the government, which clearly has not the confidence of the country and which is responsible for a policy whose unfortunate effects are to be considered at Genoa, is not competent to represent this country."

The house proceeded to a vote on this amendment. The result was as follows: For, 84; against, 278. The amendment was rejected by a majority of 215 votes.

Vote of Confidence.
The house later proceeded to vote on the prime minister's resolution of confidence, which read as follows: "Resolved, That this house approve the resolution passed by the supreme council at Cannes on a basis of the Genoa conference and that it will support its majesty's government in endeavoring to give effect to them."

The result of this vote was: For, 372; against, 94.

Old Time Triumph.
The prime minister scored one of his old time triumphs in his speech this afternoon. He was never in better form. Full of vitality from his Welsh holiday and in splendid voice, he spoke for an hour and twenty-five minutes to a house that was enthusiastic. Even his "diehard" and labor opponents could not help cheering his best points. The solid body of the coalition several times compelled him to pause for three or four minutes while the strange house of commons cheer, which sounds like "yah, yah, yah," rolled through the house.

It was a serious speech, but one full of humor. He told how Europe was dying for want of reconstruction and in doing so he chaffed his opponents at every available opportunity. He told the labor party he did not see why they objected to conferences so much. They had been brought up in conferences, which was their way of letting off superfluous steam.

Talk to "Diehards."
He told the "diehards" they said he was head of the dying coalition ministry, and as one about to die he predicted his successors would be picked. Their principles were represented by the Morning Post, Daily Herald, Gazette, Daily Mail, and the comic cuts. The significance of this is that the Post is old fashioned Tory, the Herald is Communist, the Westminster Gazette, Free Liberal; the Mail, Northcliffe, and the comic cuts the cheapest form of humor for office boys.

He made a really moving appeal to reason in dealing with Russia, which he said had been brought into a new frame of mind by the famine. It was the greatest undeveloped country in the world. Its greatest potential wealth was labor, but it needed capital, which would not get without recognizing the conditions imposed and expected of civilized communities.

MILK CAUSE OF ARMOUR DEATH?

Bundesen Starts Inquiry; Closes Two Dairies.
That the death of Gwendolyn Armour, 6-year-old daughter of Philip D. Armour III., and the illness of her younger brother may have been caused by virulent streptococcus micro-organisms in the milk fed to the babies was indicated yesterday when Health Commissioner Bundesen issued orders that no milk from two Wisconsin farms be brought into Chicago.

The commission's action followed a conference with Dr. James Warren Van Derslice, secretary of the milk commission of the Chicago Medical society, which inspects and supervises the production and distribution of all certified milk.
Culture of Milk Kills Guinea Pig.
A culture made from milk from the Wern-Keystone farm, eight miles west of Waukegan, where the milk given the Armour children was produced, killed a guinea pig within eighteen hours after the culture had been injected into the pig's peritoneum, health authorities announced.

After issuing the "stop order" on the Wern-Keystone farm and an adjacent farm known as the Wern dairy farm, Dr. Bundesen ordered Dr. F. O. Tonney, head of the health department laboratories; Dr. J. L. Veit, department epidemiologist, and Dr. H. C. Becker, city veterinarian, to take samples of the milk of each of the 200 cows on the two farms, beginning today.
No milk from the two farms, which have supplied several thousand quarts of certified milk to Chicagoans daily, will be permitted to be sold today. The order will be in effect until arrangements have been made to pasteurize the output of the two farms.

Make Laboratory Tests.

Dr. Tonney announced that laboratory tests show that the streptococcus hemolytic organism was contained in milk taken from the Wern-Keystone farm.
Many streptococcus germs are harmful, but the hemolytic type results in a dissolution of red blood corpuscles in human beings, causing streptococcus sore throat, gall bladder trouble, heart disease and peritonitis.
Dr. Bundesen began his investigation when he noted that the cause of the death of Gwendolyn Armour was given in the death certificate as streptococcus sore throat with attendant peritonitis. When the virulent germs are milk born, peritonitis often results. Epidemics of streptococcus sore throat occurred in Boston and Baltimore five years ago, and Chicago had an epidemic in 1911.

Specialist Attacks Milk Theory.

Dr. Frank X. Walls, baby specialist, who, with other physicians, attended the Armour girl, cast doubt on the theory that the infection was milk borne. "I don't think it was the milk," he said. "I had samples analyzed and no virulent streptococcus was isolated. The milk was certified and in order to take no chances it was boiled."

"The death of the guinea pig makes it appear that there is cause for shutting off the milk supply from these farms," said Dr. Van Derslice. "I am confident, however, that the milk supplied to the Armour child was pure."

Rawlands, owner of the Wern-Keystone farm, declared his product is "as sanitary as human ingenuity can make it."

SMALL DELAYS TRIAL; ATTACKS LIST OF JURORS

Must Call Women, His Contention.

Gov. Len Small yesterday at Waukegan continued the fight he has been making for the last eight months to keep from going to trial on the indictments voted against him last summer by the Sangamon county grand jury.
Through his counsel he attacked the legality of the Lake county jury list, from which the jury which is to try him will be selected, on the grounds that the board of supervisors in compiling the venire failed to list women as well as men.

Although the prosecution had expected another legal maneuver seeking delay, the attack upon the legality of the jury list came somewhat as a surprise and the state requested more time in which to consult authorities and prepare arguments in answer to the latest contentions of the defense.

Primary Gives Him Another Day.

James H. Wilkerson, assistant attorney general, asked that the state be given until 1:30 this afternoon to present its argument, but, as there is a local primary election in Waukegan today, Judge Claire C. Edwards said he did not think it fair to keep the prospective jurors locked up half a day for nothing. He allowed the men in the jury box to return to their homes, cautioning them to speak to no one concerning the case, not even to other prospective jurors, and adjourned court until 9:30 tomorrow morning.

Should Judge Edwards uphold Small's contention as to the illegality of the jury list another long delay may be necessitated while the board of supervisors prepares a new list. Ordinarily the board does not meet to prepare the list until September, but, according to Attorney Warner W. Schroeder, who presented the argument for the defense, the supervisors may hold a special meeting for this purpose.

There is also the possibility, it is pointed out, of Sheriff Elmer Green sending deputies out to summon men for jury service just as he is empowered to do when the jury list has been exhausted.
Women May Sit on Jury.
If the list is held illegal and a new one prepared there is also the possibility of women sitting on the Small jury. The defense does not contend that women are eligible to sit on the jury and, it is understood, is not especially desirous of having them serve, but merely raises the technical issue that the names of women voters should have been placed on the list from which the jurors are to be selected.

After keeping the court waiting for more than an hour, Gov. Small finally appeared at about 11:30. His attorney, Charles C. Le Forge, had begged the indulgence of the court, explaining that the government was motoring up to Waukegan and had been delayed. As soon as he arrived Judge Edwards asked the attorneys if they were ready to proceed with the case. Both State Attorney C. F. Mortimer and Attorney Le Forge said they were ready.

Venemen Called to Box.

Twelve venemen were called to the jury box and the oath was administered. Attorney Le Forge then announced the defense had a motion to offer. The prospective jurors were excused while Attorney Schroeder read an affidavit by Gov. Small attacking the jury list. The affidavit pointed out that the law requires the board of supervisors to compile a jury list from the names of 10 per cent of the eligible voters in the county.

It was argued that at the last general election, Nov. 2, 1920, there were a total of 29,173 ballots cast in Lake county, 12,973 by men and 8,049 by women. It was further contended that the jury list was made from the male voters alone and that the 1,423 names selected represented 10 per cent of the male voters and only 7 per cent of the total number of qualified electors.

Attorney Schroeder argued the board of supervisors, in preparing the list, had entirely "disregarded the nineteenth amendment of the constitution," which, he contended, had the effect of granting the same rights and privileges to women as vested in men voters. He cited court decisions from Michigan, Nevada, and Pennsylvania supporting the argument that women may serve on juries. Even though it should be held that women may not sit on a jury in a criminal case, he declared, the method of drawing up the jury list was illegal.

He was still in the midst of his argument when the noon recess was taken and used up forty-five minutes more at the afternoon session citing

POLICEMAN AND MESSENGER DIE; $8,000 STOLEN

So. Chicago Crowd Thrown in Panic.

In an $8,000 holdup committed early last night within eye range of hundreds of persons in the center of South Chicago's business district, Policeman Ernest H. Cassidy and Philip Sommer, treasurer of the Royal Building and Loan association, were killed by one of five bandits who escaped in an automobile amidst a fusillade of bullets.

The remarkable daring displayed by the bandits is indicated by the circumstance that the scene of the crime corresponds to Chicago's loop—except that on Monday night, which follows pay day in many of the big industries there—the streets are crowded. Stores, shops, and restaurants were open. Movie theaters were operating at the meridian mark. And only a short distance away was the police station.

Shot Without Warning.
Eyewitnesses say that both men were shot without warning. Cassidy, who was an ex-service man, did not even have a chance to defend himself. He was shot in the side. Neither of the victims regained sufficient consciousness to make a statement.

Although an automobile with a shotgun squad took the trail of the bandits within ten minutes, it did not come within firing distance of them. So far as known, nobody obtained the license number of the bandit car, which is said to be a Paige. It is believed to have come from a distance.

Mr. Sommer had been with the building and loan association for twenty-two years. It is located at 9223 Commercial avenue. It had been his custom for the last fifteen years to walk each Monday evening to the Calumet National bank, 9117 Commercial avenue, and deposit the day's receipts. He was always accompanied by a policeman as guard.

Policeman Walked Behind.

Last night Mr. Sommer carried $4,200 in cash and $3,800 in checks in a small black satchel. He left the association rooms at 8:30 o'clock. Cassidy walked about three steps behind him. The bank is a short block away. The street is brilliantly lighted.

They passed a number of Mr. Sommer's acquaintances, to whom he nodded or exchanged a word of greeting. It was to one of these that he laughingly said in answer to the question, "Well, you're making the old trip again, eh?" "Yes. You know, last week I had a dream I was held up. So on that Monday I had them give me two policemen. Nothing happened. So I reduced the guard to one again."

They arrived within 100 feet of the bank. By an odd circumstance there were no pedestrians in the immediate vicinity. A black touring car, with curtains drawn, eased up to the curb, behind Cassidy. A man with a revolver leaped out, thrust the muzzle in Cassidy's side and said: "Stick 'em up."

BRITISH NAVY TRICKED; IRISH NAB GUN SHIP

Here's Inside Story of Arms Seizure.

LONDON, April 3.—[United News.]—Romantic details of the latest and most daring act of piracy committed by republican activists in Cork, where a force of recalcitrant Irish men seized a British ship, sailed it to a smugglers' cove, and there stripped it of rifles, small arms, and ammunition, have been revealed to the United News. They form a spectacular chapter in the history of the Irish war.

Winston Churchill announced to the house of commons today that the admiralty is now instituting an official inquiry into the seizure of the vessel, and that henceforth all shipments of arms will be guarded by naval escorts.

"The fact that such an elaborate conspiracy could be accomplished without the knowledge of the provisional government showed that the Griffith faction's control over Cork was practically nonexistent," he said.

It added that the cargo contained 400 rifles, 700 revolvers, 23 machine guns, 500,000 rounds of rifle ammunition, and some navy stores, including explosives.

Kidnaped a Skipper.

It is now believed that the ship was an ordinary tramp steamer, loaded at Cork with munitions destined for the United States.

Learning of the shipment, the Cork republicans obtained an unwilling skipper for the ship by kidnaping a prominent merchant who was formerly a sea captain just as he was leaving a bank.

Five men, in civilian clothes, held him up, forced him into a motor car, and drove to Queenstown. Here the republicans commandeered a tugboat, loaded light guns aboard, and put the kidnaped captain in charge, telling him to steam out to sea and intercept the tramp steamer.

In the meantime nearly every motor launch in the city of Cork was observed driving out through the dusk toward the coast.

In semi-darkness the unsuspecting tramp steamer pushed toward Queenstown, convoyed by destroyers, but the warships proceeded too far ahead of their charge, and the republicans' tug intercepted the ship thirty-five miles from the harbor and signalled it to stop and "receive an admiralty order."

Steamer's Captain Trapped.

The skipper of the tramp obeyed, sending a small boat with several men—practically his entire crew—to the tug. As the boat reached the republicans' "frigate" the men were ordered to board and disarm the ship.

The republicans then boarded the steamer, put their kidnaped captain in charge, and ordered him to set a course toward an isolated point on the coast sheltered from the sea by an island.

It arrived at 1 o'clock on an inky black morning.

As the tramp steamer sailed into the cove hundreds of torpedoes streamed down to the water, and at once large forces of republicans appeared, unloading the vessel and carrying off the military stores in the big vans.

During the process the four British destroyers passed the entrance to the cove and played their searchlights on the ship without discovering the steamer they had lost.

Guns Silence Collins.

DUBLIN, April 3.—[By the Associated Press.]—The meeting addressed by Michael Collins, head of the Irish provisional government, at Castlebar, County Mayo, last night, was stopped by members of the Fourth Western Division of the Irish republican army after stormy scenes in which a woman was wounded by a bullet, according to accounts reaching Dublin.

The chief of the provisional government and his party returned to their hotel and the officer who had proclaimed the meeting at once followed, declaring that none would be allowed to leave until Mr. Collins and his friends had surrendered their arms.

The accounts received here do not state whether the Collins party was dispersed.

Bar Free State Troops.

MULLINGAR, County Westmeath, Ireland, April 3.—An incident from which sensational developments are expected here occurred today when 100 Free State troops marched to the gates of the barracks occupied by Irish republican army adherents of Eamon de Valera and were refused admission.

DUNDALK, County Louth, Ireland, April 3.—The boycott of Ulster is on with a vengeance.

This economic reprisal, removed by the Daily Eireann after Sir James Craig and Michael Collins made their first agreement, was restored by the "army executive council," appointed recently at the rebel army convention. Armed men are destroying goods from the banded area. During the week-end they will make it impossible for Belfast merchants to do business in the provisional government's area.

Last night five carloads of stuff were removed from a storehouse and burned. The mails were stolen from southbound trains at Drogheda Junction and an early morning freight train was stopped at Drogheda Junction and four cars burned. At noon a party of young men threw oil on goods in a still in the market square, partially destroying the articles. The owner is a Belfast Catholic.

The "army council's" work is rapidly breaking up the business relations so recently renewed between the north and the south. Trade is almost impossible.

Favor Military Dictatorship.

Openly the provisional government has apparently done nothing to prevent the imposition of the boycott by the "army executive council," which is seeking to overthrow the provisional government and establish a military dictatorship.

The receding of south and west Ireland to Belfast manufacturers and the unemployment situation which is already causing anxiety and will further complicate the task of finding employment for the idle Catholics of Belfast.

LIVING AND DEAD UNITE TO HONOR 'OLD BURROUGHS'

Distance States Help Found Memorial.

Roxbury, N. Y., April 3.—The home-stead farm in the Catskills where John Burroughs was born, lived, and is buried, today became a national memorial to him in a simple ceremony attended by several hundred. Poems by Burroughs, by his friend, Walt Whitman, and others who wrote of nature's wonders were read.

Then his grandchildren, Ursula and John Burroughs, unveiled a bronze memorial tablet inscribed in the "boyhood rock" that is his tombstone. The tablet is a bas relief picturing the naturalist seated upon the rock and looking into the distance. It bears these two lines from Burroughs' poem, "Wandering":

"I stand amid the eternal ways
And what is mine shall know my face."

When the ceremony ended wild flowers gathered from the fields and the hills of states nearby and as distant as California were placed on the grave. There were junipers, plucked from the grave of Walt Whitman at Camden, N. J., and flowers grown beside the cottage at La Jolla, Cal., where Burroughs lived a year ago, just before starting toward home—a trip in the midst of which he died.

Other floral tokens came from Henry Ford, who recently bought the Burroughs farm that it might be preserved as a memorial, and Thomas A. Edison. The manufacturer and the inventor, for many years vacation comrades of the naturalist, were expected to attend the ceremonies but were unable to do so.

TULEY ACT INVOKED HERE FIRST TIME IN LABOR DISPUTE

Availing themselves of the opportunity afforded under the terms of the Tuley act to settle their differences through the mediation of the courts, representatives of the Chicago Coal Merchants' association, the Contracting Teamsters' association, and the Coal Teamsters' association, and the Superior court yesterday before Chief Justice Denis W. Sullivan of the Superior court and petitioned him to act as their arbitrator.

An agreement which the three petitioners entered into Jan. 31 has proved irksome to all parties and a strike in the business impended.

The union contends that the spirit of the agreement is violated daily by the merchants, who sell coal and other fuel products to peddlers or dealers not members of the association, and also hire nonunion labor.

The merchants say they have a right to sell to any customer who can pay for his purchase, regardless of his affiliations.

On the petition of the merchants' association Judge Sullivan yesterday granted an injunction restraining the teamsters' union from interfering with the merchants' association.

Under the terms of the Tuley act, which has never before been invoked in local labor disputes, contending organizations may call upon any judge to act singly or with two others to settle controversies.

Mrs. Lydig Too Sick to Testify at Stokes Hearing

New York, April 3.—[Special.]—Mrs. Rita de Costa Lydig, society leader, subpoenaed in the suit of Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes to recover her dower rights in William E. D. Stokes' $100,000 estate, was too ill to appear in the Supreme court today, according to affidavits presented by her attorney, Williams Travers Jerome.

The former district attorney handed Judge Cochran affidavits from physicians who today examined Mrs. Lydig at her home and swore that any excitement in her weakened condition might prove fatal. As a result Mrs. Lydig's testimony at the previous trial was stricken from the record.

STRIKING MINERS CLAIM SUPPORT OF NONUNIONISTS

Unorganized Workers Quilt
in West Virginia.

BULLETIN.

Kansas City, Mo., April 3.—The Southwestern Coal Operators' association agreed late today to carry out the order of the Kansas industrial court to continue the present wage agreement in the Kansas mines for thirty days, according to Massey Holmes, counsel for the Central Coal and Coke company.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Union officials declared last night that the coal strike has already made greater inroads into the nonunion fields of West Virginia than was estimated on Saturday, the first day of the strike.

Reports at Indianapolis were that the open shop New River field was completely closed and in the Windy Gulf field many pits were closed. Estimates of union field observers were that in these two fields 21,000 workers will be participating in the shutdown before the end of the week.

Reports from other nonunion sections were fragmentary, largely due to the scattering of the international officers to Washington and other points, but headquarters said all indications were that Saturday's estimate that the 500,000 union members have been joined by 100,000 nonunion miners in the suspension of work still stands.

Gummen in West Virginia.

West Virginia was the first trouble spot. Indianapolis headquarters received a wire saying that "company gummen" or forty-five union Spies and Italians out of Stotsbury, W. Va., during the day, threatening them with death if they returned. At Royal, in the Raleigh county field, a car filled with miners was fired upon but no one was hurt. The dispatches were not clear as to whether the miners attacked were union or nonunion.

At Zeigler one miner killed and another wounded in the record since the strike began, but neither of the shootings is said to be due to the strike.

Operators Make Offer.

From all indications the anthracite controversy will be settled ahead of the bituminous. In New York union leaders were jubilant last night when they announced several independent hard coal producers had offered to grant all fifteen of the wage demands if the men would go back to the pits. The offer came from William Peck, president of a mining company at Peckville, Pa., and it was followed, according to the union chiefs, by similar proposals from other small independents in the Scranton region.

Members of the Anthracite Operators' association, however, denied that this meant anything like a break in the ranks of the organized producers. They said the offers were made by operators of "wagon mines," whose production is a negligible factor. Between 70 and 80 per cent of the total anthracite output is produced by about a dozen "railroad coal companies."

The Illinois Coal Operators' association says the chance that producers are holding large stocks on hand for which the public will have to pay through the nose is untrue.

Rail Men Not to Join Strike.

Railway union leaders in Chicago scouted the suggestion that their organizations will lend the miners' cause anything more than the moral support pledged through the alliance formed several weeks ago, when rail and mine union chiefs met in joint conference here.

NATIONALIZE THE MINES, PANACEA OF UNION CHIEF

But Don't Set Wages,
He Also Suggests.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

Washington, D. C., April 3.—[Special.]—Responsibility for the suspension of work in the coal mines was placed upon the operators by John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, today before the house committee on labor.

Mr. Lewis appeared with a voluminous manuscript setting forth the position of the coal operators in the controversy affecting wages in the bituminous and anthracite fields. It took him practically all day to read the document.

Among those in the hearing room was Samuel Gompers, who was opposed by Mr. Lewis for the presidency of the American Federation of Labor but who has pledged his support to the coal miners in their struggle with the operators.

Mr. Lewis declared that the coal operators have "flagrantly and arrogantly refused to carry out their obligations to bring about stabilization of the industry, but said he would oppose the establishment of a tribunal with authority to fix wages.

Representative Nolan (Cal.), committee chairman, asked Mr. Lewis if the miners would be willing to enter a conference with all operators of the central competitive field except those of southern Ohio and western Pennsylvania, who have refused to participate.

"If such a meeting were to make a sincere effort to agree I would advise the workers to attend," he replied. "I have no assurance that such a meeting could be arranged, as the Indiana and the Hocking valley operators will not attend unless all groups are represented."

COURT DECIDES
"DREGS OF CITY"
CAN'T BE SHOWN

The appellate court yesterday upheld the recent refusal of Police Chief Fitzmorris to grant a permit for the exhibition of a motion picture called "Dregs of the City." The picture is supposed to depict the pitfalls which await a young girl in Chicago. Policewoman Alice Clement plays the leading role.

After Chief Fitzmorris had refused to permit the picture to be shown here A. L. Gottlieb, the exhibitor, instituted a circuit court action. This court ruled that the picture might be shown. The decision yesterday reversed the ruling.

SHATTUCK RAID LAID TO MASTER MIND OF 'HENRI'

New York, April 3.—[Special.]—Henri Bolla, a French butler, who in 1917 robbed the Shattuck residence, was sought today by scores of detectives as the leader of the band which locked Mr. and Mrs. Albert Shattuck and eight servants in the six-by-fifteen foot wine vault of their residence at 19 Washington square north on Sunday and stole jewelry valued at more than $30,000.

The last of the fleeing bandits, Eugene Dinet, was captured when the captives escaped to a telephone.

In his story today Dinet told how "Henri" had organized the band and plotted the crime and how familiar "Henri" had showed himself to be with the inside of the house.

From this and from the stories of the family and servants, this "Henri" is believed to be Henri Bolla, the butler who departed one night from the Shattuck home with a bundle of jewels worth $12,000 under his arm.

DEMOCRATS' ROW RIVALS "SCRAP" OF REPUBLICANS

Wreck of Coalition Plan Followed by Split.

This is the third of a series of articles by Messrs. Phillips and Brown, in which the many angled primary contests in both the Republican and Democratic camps will be analyzed.

BY E. O. PHILLIPS AND PARKE BROWN.

Chicago Democrats are up against a primary jam that makes as much Democratic trouble on next Tuesday as the Republican wild-eyed ring-around-a-rosy manufacturers for the battling Republican factions.

The Democratic mess is best revealed by this citation of developments:

In 1910 there was a harmony ticket, in which the old Sullivan, Harrison, and Dunne factions were satisfied and the Democrats won with their entire ticket in November.

In 1912 there was a Democratic state administration, due to the Taft-Roosevelt split of the Republicans, and a Democratic "Federal crowd" was created through President Wilson's appointments. There was no Democratic harmony on county nominations following 1910, and the Democrats lost regularly in county elections, so far as an organized ticket, nominated under the primary law, was concerned.

Go Into Judicial Coalition.

Thompsonism became a direct issue with citizens generally in Chicago in the June, 1921, judicial election. The splitup Democrats agreed to go into a harmony agreement with the Deneen and Brundage Republicans, together for the first time in years. Politicians and nonpartisan citizens who were weary of Lundin domination in city, county, and state affairs, joined in giving the first real jolt that Thompson and Lundin received when their hand-picked Circuit ticket of judges was defeated.

The way was paved for a coalition between regular Democratic forces, as organized for the judicial campaign, and the anti-city hall Republicans on the county ticket this year. It was "broadened" generally that the renomination of present county officials whose terms are expiring would be satisfactory as the basis of such coalition.

The Democrats had such officials as County Clerk Robert M. Switzer and County Treasurer Patrick J. Carr. Even now, following the wreck of the plan, these two Democrats have no primary opposition.

"Regulars" Make Up Ticket.

Coalition failed and the Democratic regular organization, through its managing committee, consisting of one elected member from each of the thirty-five Chicago wards, and six district committeemen from the country towns, proceeded to the makeup of the "regular" organization slate.

On Jan. 6 the managing committee determined to name a committee of fifteen to consider recommendations of the regular ward organizations for slate places. This committee was named by Chairman James M. Dailey. Later it was increased by the addition of himself and Secretary Crowe as voting members. Henry Stuckart, named on the original committee, withdrew. City Clerk James T. Igoe, now chairman of the anti-organization campaign, was an original member.

Each ward made its recommendations and a slate was announced, having been adopted by roll call of the entire managing committee.

Igoe Forms Rival Body.

The "Citizens' Democratic Organization" was formed with Mr. Igoe as chairman. Its ticket was made up

Democratic Lineup for County Ticket

The Democratic lineup for the major county offices for the April primary is summarized as follows:

COUNTY JUDGE—Former Municipal Court Judge Edmund K. Jarecki is "regular" candidate, opposed by Municipal Court Judge John J. Rooney, Citizens'.

PROBATE JUDGE—The present judge, Henry Horner, is the Regulars' candidate and would have been named on the coalition slate, had there been one. John W. Beckwith, former corporation counsel and superior court judge, is Judge Horner's opponent on the Citizens' ticket.

SHERIFF—James M. Dailey, ex-alderman and former district sanitary trustee, is the Regulars' candidate. As chairman of the managing committee he named the original Committee of Fifteen. On the Citizens' slate is John E. Traeger, formerly coroner, sheriff, and city treasurer of Chicago, and now a member of the constitutional convention. Both come from the stock yards territory and there is strong personal antagonism. Gilbert W. Erus and M. J. Klobuchar are candidates.

COUNTY TREASURER—The present treasurer, Patrick J. Carr, who succeeded the late Harry Gibbons, has no primary opponent.

COUNTY CLERK—Robert M. Switzer is unopposed for renomination. Mr. Switzer and Mr. Carr were agreed to by spokesmen for all of those who discussed possible coalition.

around four major offices: John W. Beckwith, for Probate judge against Judge Horner; John E. Traeger for sheriff, against Mr. Dailey; Daniel Ryan for president of the county board, against Anton J. Cermak, and Aid. John S. Clark for clerk of the Probate court, against Henry A. Zender. Municipal Court Judge John J. Rooney was picked to run against former Municipal Court Judge Edmund K. Jarecki for county judge after he had declined to be a candidate for Probate judge.

The regular organization had denied a place to President Ryan of the county board, apparently for the reason that as an Irishman his renomination would overload the ticket with Irish candidates. There is no secret that the regular organization leaders sought to discourage too many Irish from getting into the primary. The slate was made on the basis, it is openly asserted, of completing a ticket representative of

Regulars Claim Old Rivals United.

The contention of the regulars is that for the first time since 1910 the old Sullivan, Dunne, and Harrison elements are together. The only absentee of recent Democratic battles is the Hearst contingent. Mr. Sullivan is dead. Mr. Harrison is abroad. Mr. Dunne has spoken for the regular ticket. Inside the regular organization are included George Brennan, Congressman Sabath, and William L. O'Connell, who stand for spokesmen for the earlier set of factional scrapers.

The basic claim of the "citizens" is that the regular slate was the product of a hand picked "back room" caucus at the Sherman house, directed by George Brennan. The primary issue is as to the ability of the anti-organization forces to break the regular slate. A successful foray, politicians figure, at next week's primary might be important in figuring the Democratic lineup for next spring's mayoralty campaign.

COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS—The incumbent, Edward J. Tobin, is unopposed.

BOARD OF ASSESSORS—Michael E. Sheridan, former assessor, is endorsed by the Regulars. James R. Quinn is the Citizens' candidate. William F. Burns is a third starter.

BOARD OF REVIEW—Ald. Ulysse G. Schwartz of the Third ward has the endorsement of the Regular organization. James M. Slattery of the Twenty-fifth ward is the candidate on the Citizens' ticket. Frank J. Walsh, naval officer in the customs department under President Wilson, is a third factor. John B. Gorey and Henry Rosenthal are also candidates.

PRESIDENT OF COUNTY BOARD—This is a showdown between Aid. Anton J. Cermak of the Regulars and the present president, Daniel Ryan.

nationalities and Democratic territories.

Jarecki Slated for Poles.

The case for the regulars, as they make it, is that Mr. Jarecki was slated for county judge because of $5,000 Poles who never have had a major nomination on a county ticket. The same argument goes for Aid. Cermak, representing Bohemians. Mr. Zender was checked back as a German, and Aid. Ulysse S. Schwartz, for board of review, was presented as representing the heavy Jewish vote on the south side, in addition to the claim that he is leading in the constructive program being formulated in the city council for a solution of the subway and transportation problem.

President Ryan's friends resented the refusal of the regulars to reslate him. He had been elected by the county board to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late President Peter Reinberg. Mr. Ryan and Mr.

CHARGES STATE OFFICIALS BLOCK COUNTY'S ROADS

Cook county's road building program is being blocked by state officials, according to a resolution presented to the county board yesterday.

The resolution, introduced by Commissioner Frank J. Wilson, asked appointment of a committee to confer with state highway officials and Gov. Small. Plans and specifications covering twenty-two miles of permanent road improvements were submitted to the state highway department on Nov. 22, the resolution stated. Failure of that department either to approve or disapprove has tied up Cook county's highway department, it alleged.

"This means," Commissioner Wilson said, "that employment to thousands is being denied by the state for its own reasons, political or otherwise. Cook county has the money and is ready to begin at once on $700,000 worth of road building."

Bond Sale April 13.
Springfield, Ill., April 3.—[Special.]—C. R. Miller, director of public works, announced today that the second sale of highway bonds will be held, April 13. Bids will be received that day for $6,000,000 worth of bonds, to be issued May 1.

The other four were exonerated, the grand jurors determining their connection with the construction of the building not sufficient to make them criminally liable.

Charges Price of

That contempt proceeding against city hall real estate "governing out of their failure to come tax on the more than $1,000,000 of real estate obtained by them from the city, were ordered dropped by the grand jury in Washington through the influence of a Chicago congressman was promised renomination opposition by the Lundin-Townsend crowd, was the charge last night by Michael L. Igoe to Democrats.

"Because of the present Igoe men are fearful their homes will be sold over their heads," Mr. Igoe said in his speech in behalf of the Democratic candidates. "The price we are paying for the Igoe men is $1,000,000. They boosted the tax rate $1.43 to $1.55. This added to the people's burden. When the fact that $2,000,000 was paid 'experts' and lawyers for worth less than $50,000 you will comprehend."

Hand Reaches to Wash.
"You will recall they were the federal court because of failure to submit their books to government undertook to collect income taxes. You will recall that the proceedings suddenly out of sight. I will tell you."

"The long hand of Thompson Lundin reached to Washington moment when the 'experts' were at Washington stepped the picture of international relations then engaging the attention of the country and issued orders the contempt proceedings."

Igoe was formerly Democratic in the house at Springfield now a candidate for the Democratic nomination for his old job in the Park district.

Crowe Attacks Deneen
"State's Attorney Robert E. Deneen, speaking at Cohan's Grand house, told the reason for his fight with Mayor Thompson and that Ex-Gov. Deneen was not with the mayor."

"Gov. Deneen rather laments the fact that Brundage himself are now against Thompson. He accuses me of siding with Thompson. I remember he turned against Governor Deneen, because Governor Deneen not support Deneen for governor quit Thompson, not because he me political support, but Thompson gave evidence that opposed to my living up to the office. On that issue I was to quit, not only Thompson, man or group of men."

Other speakers were Charles Thompson, candidate for county treasurer, promised to turn all the income of the county, and Peter M. Hoffman, candidate for sheriff. "I will give the people the best businesslike administration as elected, as I have done as Mr. Hoffman said."

Charges Price of Help Was Renomination.

That contempt proceedings began against city hall real estate "experts," growing out of their failure to pay income tax on the more than $2,000,000 obtained by them from the city treasury, were ordered dropped by high officials in Washington through the influence of a Chicago congressman, who was promised renomination without opposition by the Lundin-Thompson crowd, was the charge last night made by Michael L. Igée to Democrats in the Sixth ward.

"Because of the present taxes city hall is fearful their homes will be sold over their heads," Mr. Igée said in his speech in behalf of the "regular" Democratic candidates. "That is the price we are paying for maintaining small and Thompson in office. They boosted the tax rate from $1.45 to $1.85. This added millions to the people's burden. When you reflect that $2,000,000 was paid out to 'experts' and lawyers for services worth less than $50,000 you will begin to comprehend."

"The long hand of Thompson and Lundin reached to Washington at a moment when the 'experts' were facing a crisis. Somebody in high authority at Washington stepped out of the picture of international negotiations then engaging the attention of the country and issued orders to stop the contempt proceedings."

Crowe Attacks Deneen. "State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe, speaking at Cohan's Grand Opera house, told the reason for his break with Mayor Thompson and charged that Ex-Gov. Deneen was now allied with the mayor."

Gov. Deneen rather pathetically laments the fact that Thompson and myself are now against Thompson," he said. "He accuses me of ingratitude to Thompson. I remember when he turned against Lorimer, his political godfather, because Lorimer would not support Deneen for governor. "And so it goes. "Mr. Crowe will not be able to hide his connections with the city hall by misstatements about the Deneen group."

Other speakers were Charles Ringer, candidate for county treasurer, who promised to turn all the interest into the county, and Peter M. Hoffman, Republican candidate for sheriff. "I will give the people the same businesslike administration as I have done as coronor," Mr. Hoffman said.

GUERNSEY AGAIN DENIES DENEEN IS TIED TO CITY HALL

Points to Crowe Club in the Thirteenth.

Definite denial was issued last night from the Deneen group headquarters that there is political alliance with the city hall organization. "Not one of its county or municipal candidates is connected with the city hall, nor has been," was the statement of Ald. Guy Guernsey for the Deneen organization.

"Mr. Crowe evidently thinks he can divert attention from his own affiliations with the city hall machine by making charges against others," Mr. Guernsey said. "His conduct in organizing the Thirteenth Ward Regular Republican club in this campaign throws a flood of light on his present connection with the city hall."

Points to Thirteenth Ward Club. "Mr. Crowe's club is located at 2044 West Madison street, next door to the Thompson club. George Nye, boiler inspector at the city hall, is treasurer of the Thompson club; his son is an officer of Mr. Crowe's club."

David Clark, member of the board of local improvements under Mayor Thompson, is president of the Thompson club; his nephew is one of the officers of Mr. Crowe's club.

Their meetings are held on different evenings, and the two clubs exchange chairs, and also those who occupy the chairs, at their different meetings. The harmony and hospitality which exist between Mr. Crowe's club and Mr. Thompson's club make the judgment of the public.

"And so it goes. "Mr. Crowe will not be able to hide his connections with the city hall by misstatements about the Deneen group."

TAX SHRINKAGE NOT SO BAD, SAYS MELLON REPORT

Washington, D. C., April 3.—Despite a falling off of more than $60,000,000 in the expected government receipts from income and profits taxes for March, Secretary Mellon announced tonight that the shrinkage in internal revenue collections for the fiscal year ending next June 30 was not likely to be substantial, in view of collections of back taxes and increased collections of miscellaneous internal revenue.

But for the fiscal year 1923, Mr. Mellon declared, the total collections of income and profits taxes were likely to be about $1,500,000,000, instead of $1,715,000,000, as estimated in the budget, or a falling off of $215,000,000.

THE HERO SPEAKS

CITY Civil Service Commissioners Frazier, Ames, and Geary, Chief of Police Fitzmorris, and First Deputy Chief Alcock have a three day task which would be a picnic for Chicago's thousands of small boy hero worshippers.

All they had to do yesterday, all they will do today and Thursday is to sit in easy chairs and listen to policemen tell hero stories, many of which rival the best tales of adventure.

When their task is over, the special commissioners will tell Mayor Thompson, City Treasurer Smith, and City Controller Harding which story they consider the best, and on the breast of the hero of the best story will be pinned the Carter H. Harrison bravery medal for 1921, the city's highest award for heroism.

That task out of the way, the three civil service commissioners will sit with Fire Marshal O'Connor to decide which of the city's firemen performed the bravest deed in 1921. To him will go the Lambert Tree medal, companion award to the Harrison medal. Commissioner Frazier yesterday denied reports that it had been decided to award the medals to Police Lieut. Michael J. Grady and Truckman Peter F. McGovern.

HOUSE HALTS 4 JUICY SHIPPING BOARD SALARIES

Washington, D. C., April 3.—The house put its foot down firmly today on a proposal to pay salaries of $35,000 to four shipping board officials, refusing by a unanimous vote to approve the conference report on the bill, which would have authorized payment during the coming fiscal year of salaries of between $11,000 and $25,000 to six employees in addition to four who would receive $35,000.

The rejected limitation had been agreed to by house and senate conferees as a compromise between a house provision and a senate amendment. After a round of criticism of the compromise, the conference report was committed to the house committee with instructions to insist on a provision that no salaries in excess of $25,000 be authorized.

Representative Walsh [Mass.], who was the chairman of the post-war committee on shipping board affairs, and Representative Mann [Ill.] proposed recommitment of the report. Expressing the hope that congress would tell the shipping board it would have to get along without four " $35,000 beauties," Mr. Walsh said:

"You propose to pay salaries practically three times that of cabinet officials." Mr. Mann said that congress, in his opinion, was not justified in paying $35,000 to any one in the government service short of the President.

VAST SOCIETY TO STUDY TRACTION PUZZLE PLANNED

A city-wide organization of fifty-six civic and commercial associations will be formed this evening at the La Salle hotel by the Chicago Association of Commerce. It will be temporarily known as the All-Chicago Council of Business Men, and "its purpose will be to study the transportation problem of Chicago to the end that it may be settled permanently in a manner satisfactory to all sections of the city."

"We have no definite ideas to suggest," wrote President E. E. Gore of the Association of Commerce, "nor do we propose to submit any plan for the solution of the traction question. After the organization of the new body has been perfected at the first meeting, we shall only become a member of it on the same terms as the other fifty-six associations."

Five of the organizations invited to participate in the new council represent the central district, twelve the west side, ten the northwest side, six the north side, eleven the south side, five the southwestern section, and seven the southeastern section.

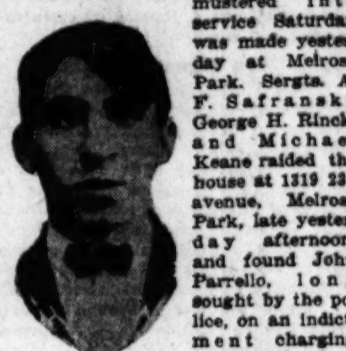

It is expected that more than 300 delegates will attend the meeting this evening in the red room of the La Salle hotel.

Council Committee Rows Over Award of Contract

J. L. Jacobs & Co. were awarded the contract for an investigation of street paving yesterday by the council committee on streets and alleys amid scenes bordering on riot. Florence Sullivan, former city paving inspector, precipitated the row when he said he had been told by Ald. Roman not to submit a bid, as it had been arranged for Jacobs to get the contract. Jacobs has conducted investigations of the sanitary district, the board of education, and the city license system.

Henrici's

Thousands—many thousands—of persons in Chicago bear toward Henrici's great good will. In every nook and corner of the city you will find them. This has been made unmistakably plain in ways too varied for detail here.

May it be said, without savor of egotism, that the attitude of the people of Chicago toward Henrici's has been deserved—deliberately?

Will it decrease your confidence in Henrici's if it be said that Henrici's has planned to achieve the confidence and support of all thoughtful, well disposed persons by filling completely a sharply defined economic need?

POLITICAL NEWS

Renomination of State Senator John Broderick in the Twenty-seventh district became practically assured yesterday when Democratic leaders in his district agreed to support his candidacy. This action followed a conference in the headquarters of E. K. Jarocki in Hotel Sherman, where 123 representatives of labor interests asked Mr. Jarocki to throw his influence in the Sixteenth ward to Broderick rather than to Ald. John A. Piotrowski, who is contesting with Broderick.

Paul Corbell, for four years assistant to Probate Judge Henry Horner, is a Republican nomination candidate for judge of the Municipal court. He is active in Woodmen affairs and a member of the Chicago district council of Boy Scouts.

Mrs. Kate Wood Ray, manager of the woman's division of the Crowe organization at the Briggs House headquarters, issued a statement last night correcting one printed yesterday in THE TRIBUNE. "The Crowe organization is endorsing Miss Ellen E. Foster as its candidate for county superintendent of schools, and not Mr. Orville T. Bright," Mrs. Ray said.

Congressman James R. Mann was censured in a resolution adopted by the advertising post No. 18 of the American Legion yesterday. "Congressman Mann used his great influence in cutting army appropriations far below the margin of safety," the resolution said. "This action is contrary to the principles of the American Legion which believes in preparedness."

James R. Buckley, Democratic candidate for congress in the Sixth district, is reported receiving support from an ex-service men's organization because of work during the war in heading Liberty loan drives.

LLOYD GEORGE'S PLAN TO DEAL WITH RUSSIA WINS APPROVAL OF PARLIAMENT

HOPE OF EUROPE RESTS ON GENOA PLANS, HE SAYS

Believes Lenin Sincere in Change of Views.

opinion and understandable prejudices in the cabinet of which the most brilliant member (looking at Winston Churchill) held very strong views. To these, he said, there would be no political recognition until Russia had fulfilled the reasonable conditions and parliament was satisfied.

In Behalf of Germany.

The prime minister also made an appeal for sanity in regard to Germany. It was not a question of Germany, he said, but of what it ultimately could pay that must be considered. To enable it to pay, all Europe must be restored, budgets balanced, and industry started again.

When the prime minister sat down there was a roll of cheering which continued fully ten minutes. Every seat in the galleries was taken. The duke of York sat over the clock in the place occupied by his grandfather, King Edward, father of King George, when prince of Wales. The archbishops of Canterbury and York also were present, as well as Ambassadors George Harvey and many other members of the diplomatic corps. The peer's gallery was full, as well as the side galleries, which were used as overflow for members of the house who could not find seats on the floor.

Speech of Prime Minister.

Mr. Lloyd George's speech in part follows: "The resolution which I have the honor to move is very much of the same character as the resolution which was moved before the Washington conference, but it gives the house an opportunity of approving the objects and purpose and the delegates to the Genoa conference.

"I should like to utter one word of kindly warning to this grotesque conglomerate assembly—not to tie their hands in advance about conference. They will find it impossible in the state of Europe to get on without them. The world is so battered, so bruised, so crushed, there are so many injuries to its vital organs, that the cure will be slow, and it will need many consultations of its leading physicians.

The First Problem.

"What is the first problem? It is the restoring of the machinery of international trade by all those who have been engaged in international trade. It took centuries of constant effort to build it up and to improve it. It was working well before the war, but it is now exactly as if a bomb had been thrown into the machine and had shattered it.

"We have had in some countries to fall back upon primitive methods—methods of barter. Commerce between certain countries is where it was thousands of years ago. Why? Because we have not the complicated, fine, and delicate machinery we had before the war. It is no longer working between nations. What is the effect? Any one who will look at the figures of international trade can see for himself. Last year our international trade was only 50 per cent of what it was before the war.

First Prime Condition.

"The first condition, which is of prime importance in the reconstruction of Europe, is to establish the relations of all the countries on a basis of stable and enduring peace, then to proceed to point out the financial methods which are necessary to meet the abnormal financial conditions in Europe due to the debased and inflated currency and to the breakdown of exchange.

"On the principal objects of the conference I should like to preface my statement by a reference to the limitations imposed on the scope of the conference. I do so because as far as I can see the official amendment challenges more particularly not the objects of the conference but the scope. The objection to the Genoa resolution is not to what we are seeking to achieve, not to the fact that we have invited all the nations of Europe there, but to the fact that there are certain limitations on the scope of the discussion.

Denies Boulogne Story.

"I understand that it is inferred that the new limitations were introduced at Boulogne. That is not the case. There were no fresh limitations introduced. The limitations were all introduced at Cannes. It would have been quite impossible to give a unanimous invitation from the allied powers for the summoning of the conference unless those limitations had been introduced, and I think they are just. I do not believe such a body as is summoned to Genoa could properly consider the revision of existing treaties, even assuming that it is desirable.

'The Welsh Wizard'

"Take the two great questions—boundaries and reparations. Let me just point out what the rearrangement of the boundaries of Europe comes to. In the main they were Alsace-Lorraine restored to France; Poland resurrected, instead of being divided between three great empires; recognition of the independence of the Slavonic populations of Austria-Hungary. These are the three great changes. Is there one of those provisions that any section of the house would wish to go back upon? Obviously the Genoa conference is not the place to enter into a revision of boundaries which have been set up by treaties.

"I come now to another limitation which has been urged with greater force—the question of reparations. The trouble in Europe has been attributed largely to the reparations exacted by the treaties of 1919. Those treaties did not create the reparations. The trouble is to the fact that you are exacting reparations but that there is something to repair.

"If you alter the treaty of Versailles you do not wipe out reparations—you simply transfer the burden of them from Germany to France, England, and Belgium, but in the main to France; you would transfer the burden from the sixty millions of people who were responsible for the devastation to the forty millions who are victims of devastation. So it is no use criticizing the reparations. The point is that the damage there has to be made up, and who is to pay it? If Germany does not pay it, France, England, and Belgium must pay.

"Germany's ultimate capacity to pay must not be judged by her capacity at this moment, when, in common with the rest of Europe, she is struggling to recover from the exhaustion of war. France could not possibly forego the right which she has won at so much cost to her in adjudication in accordance with the treaty. I do not believe it would be fair to ask her, and she certainly could not be expected to submit to the judgment of a conference at which not merely Germany but Austria-Hungary, Russia, and neutrals were represented.

Main Theme of Parley.

"Now I come to the main theme of conference—the establishment of peace, credits, currency, exchange, transport, the machinery of international trade. Many conferences have been held to discuss these questions under the auspices of the league of nations at Brussels, Barcelona, and Geneva. They accomplished a good deal. Each of them advanced matters, but they did not accomplish all that was sought to accomplish.

"I am told that in Vienna a housewife has to consider in the morning whether she will pay her bills in the forenoon or in the afternoon. The same thing, I believe, applies to other capitals. Between the dates when an order is given and the delivery of change may change by 20, 100, or 200 per cent. It is almost impossible for any one to do business under those conditions.

Problem for Genoa.

"That is one of the problems to be considered at Genoa. In order to accomplish that, one of the first considerations is to induce the nations to balance their budgets. Until they do that new issues of currency will debase currency and exchange will become wilder and wilder. That is matter on which pressure could be undoubtedly exercised at a great international conference of leading ministers of various nations. But above all it is essential that there should be real peace between the nations until that is established.

"Traders, financiers, and merchants are unnerfed. The gathering of armies on frontiers—red armies, white armies, armies of many other colors—this leads me to, perhaps, the most controversial part of the issues that will come before the Genoa conference, and that is the question of peace in Russia and peace with Russia. Actions of the bolsheviks have been of a character that has excited wrath and just anger and made it exceedingly difficult to exercise calm and composed judgment when we come to deal with Russian problems.

Russia an Impenetrable Jungle.

"I do not believe we are going to restore trade, business, and employment until we have peace throughout the whole of Europe; and there will be a constant element of disturbance. Trade will not go on, and the nerves of commerce will be shaken. There are constant rumors of great armies being built up, of hordes of savage revolutionaries ready to burst upon Europe and to reduce the countries of Europe to the same condition.

"I am sorry to say these rumors are not without some foundation—hordes of revolutionaries hope to reduce the countries of Europe to the same terrible condition of famine, pestilence, and desolation which afflicts Russia. Naturally there is great apprehension. You cannot tell what is happening there. It is an impenetrable jungle.

"There is another thing: The fact of your having these great revolutionary armies, or the belief that they exist, is used as an excuse or justification for the huge armies in other countries. There was the refusal to discuss the question of land armaments at the Washington conference, and one of the reasons given was that there was this enormous Red army in Russia which menaced Europe, and therefore no country in Europe could reduce its land armies. They will never be reduced until there is peace in Europe.

"Another reason is that Europe needs what Russia can supply. Before the war a quarter of the exportable wheat supply of the world came from Russia, millions of tons of barley and rye, and great quantities of other necessary food supplies; half the timber output of hamp and half the timber from Russia. Russia, in fact, was the greatest undeveloped country in the world. It has labor; it needs capital. It will not get capital without security, confidence, and peace, internal as well as external. Germany cannot pay in full the demands of reparations until Russia is restored.

"Now, what are the conditions laid down at Cannes? They mean that Russia must recognize all the conditions imposed and accepted by civilized communities as a test of fitness for entering into a comity of nations. She must recognize her national obligations. A country which repudiates her obligations because she changes her government is a country we cannot deal with. Certainly, in these days when governments change so often, Russia cannot pay immediately—no body expects that. Who can?

"M. Poincaré said the other day that he acknowledged France's debt to America, but if she were called upon immediately to pay she could not do so. That is equally true of Russia, but she must shoulder her responsibility as France and Britain have done, and acknowledge it. The moment she does that it adds to its value. The mere possibility has increased the value already in France. There are millions of frugal people who have their savings in Russian securities.

Must Restore Factories.

"It is impossible for France to deal on equal terms with a country which declines to acknowledge its obligations, where the property of our nationals has been confiscated. It must be restored, if not destroyed, and I am told that there is a good deal still there. I was told the other day by a man who has some property there that factories are still there. The property must be restored and compensation paid for what has been destroyed.

"Is Russia prepared to accept these conditions? There are indications of a complete change of attitude. Famine has been a great openener to Russia as to her dependability upon her neighbors, as to the fulfillment of the scheme of things which the soviet government has propounded. New decrees recognize private property, set up courts, and acknowledge responsibility. I would call the attention of the house to a very remarkable speech in which this new policy was propounded. It was propounded on Nov. 1, 1921, in a speech by Lenin. It was an admission of complete failure of the communist system and in that respect was a singularly courageous speech.

Sees Basis for Russian Peace.

"This is the first time I have ever read that speech. I had the privilege of seeing it for the first time on last Saturday in a full verbatim report. There have been extracts from it before, but these extracts were carefully made. If this represents the new determination of Russia in its dealings with the world there is real basis on which we can found peace in Russia. We have referred to experts the conditions to be made if necessary and there is a substantial agreement among experts of all nations as to working out these conditions.

"What recognition of Russia would this involve? It would involve no further recognition until the house of commons approved. It would involve access by other countries and their nationals to ports of Russia. It would involve access by Russia and her nationals to our ports. Without this fully legal status business would be quite impossible. It would involve the establishment of the usual agencies, by which a trader in foreign lands is protected.

"What would it involve in the way of diplomatic recognition? The feeling has been very generally expressed that before full and ceremonial diplomatic relations are accorded, a probationary period should be interposed. Impartial tribunals must be established with free access to them by nationals of all countries and these tribunals must not be creatures of an executive. There must be complete cessation of attacks upon institutions of other countries. There must be an understanding that there will be no aggressive action against the frontiers of their neighbors. The pact world is crying for them."

which is embodied in the language of nations will have to be accorded in principle to Russia as that which shall undertake not to attack her neighbors and her neighbors must undertake corresponding obligation not to attack her frontiers.

"What Russia Will Be Offered. "There will be no full diplomatic representations to the case of Russia as in the case of Germany until the powers are satisfied that Russia is really endeavoring to carry out the terms of one which is usually established in the case of peace between nations. Russia will be represented here by a chargé d'affaires during the period, and we shall be represented in Russia by a corresponding official until such period as we feel it desirable to establish full consular diplomatic relations.

"In the case of Germany, there was a twelve-month period after the signature of peace and six months after ratification by all the powers. That would represent the period of negotiation which it would be wise to establish in the matter of ceremonial, diplomatic representation in order to receive necessary guarantees and necessary paper on which to proceed. The Russian government intend not only themselves to honor the obligations of the new policy, but they have established sufficient control over the extremists and powerful organizations in their midst who are now engaged in challenging the new policy of the soviet government.

"Those will be the conditions which we propose that the British delegation should submit to the Genoa conference.

"We have taken into account all reasonable prejudices against those people who have outraged every sentiment that is dear to the vast majority of the people of this country. But, I believe me, unless peace is made, it will fall because these laborites will not go as far either here or elsewhere, the movement of public opinion is not in their direction, the movement is against them. Let them be wise in time in proposing these measures in all conscience. We believe the people of England demand them. Europe needs them. The world is crying for them."

A Complete Cycle of Service

In directing the affairs of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) the 7 men responsible for its management and success keep constantly before them the ideals of service which have animated the organization in its development.

They are ever mindful of the fact that the service rendered by this Company bears a close and intimate relation to the progress, success and prosperity of practically every other industry. And that it has a major bearing on many professional and highly specialized branches of business.

They recognize the grave responsibility of supplying petroleum products to those who use the internal combustion engine as a source of power, and to those who depend upon this Company to lubricate their equipment—in such manner as to conserve the power and the machinery which it operates.

These are the major and more obvious services rendered, but equal attention is given to problems affecting an individual or a small group.

This service may take the form of expert advice as to the best method of lubricating a single machine, it may be something to reduce the labor of the housewife, or to assist the medical profession in serving humanity. It may be a new kind of pavement or a method to increase or conserve the food supply.

These are but a few of the hundreds of ways in which Standard Oil service, positive and clearly defined, is helping and adding to the efficiency and economy of business generally.

As an example of how far this service is carried, we may mention the recently developed burning oil, Neolite, which supplies a growing demand for an oil used primarily in incubators and brooders, where a steady, unvarying heat must be maintained over a considerable period of time. To those who use incubators and brooders, Neolite is of great value.

While it is probable that the sales of this product will never attain a large volume, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) adds it to its long list of useful products that it may further discharge its obligation in rendering a complete cycle of service to 25 million people of 11 Middle Western States.

Shall They Suffer

As you did from film on teeth

Pepsodent is largely for the coming generation. It brings to adults whiter teeth, new protection. But to children it means a new dental era.

Your teeth, perhaps, have always been film-coated, save right after dental cleaning. The luster has been dimmed by film: Film has caused decay, no doubt, despite your daily brushing.

Now dental authorities urge you to fight film. Above all, have your children fight it daily in this scientific way.

How troubles come

Modern science traces most tooth troubles to a film—that viscous film you feel. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays.

The ordinary tooth paste does not end it. Much is left intact. Night and day that clinging film threatens damage to the teeth.

That is why well-brushed teeth discolor and decay. That is why tooth troubles have been constantly increasing.

Makes teeth dingy

Film absorbs stains, making the teeth look dingy. Film is the basis of tartar.

It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Germs breed by millions in it. Pyorrhea, and many other serious troubles, are chiefly caused by those germs and by tartar.

Dental science has for years been seeking a way to daily combat that film. It is the teeth's great enemy.

Two ways now found

Two effective film combatants have been found. Able authorities have subjected them to many careful tests. Dental science now approves them, and leading dentists, here and abroad, urge their daily use.

A new-day tooth paste has been perfected, complying with modern requirements. It is called Pepsodent. And these two film-combating methods are embodied in it.

Also starch deposits

Starch deposits also attack teeth. In fermenting they form acids.

Nature puts a starch digestant in the saliva. It puts alkalis there to neutralize the acids.

Pepsodent multiplies that starch di-gestant, also the alkalinity. Thus Nature's teeth-protecting forces are multiplied. Thus twice a day, in all these ways, Pepsodent combats the enemies of teeth.

Millions of people now use Pepsodent, largely by dental advice. Any one who once employs it can see and feel its need.

THE TRIBUNE'S PLATFORM FOR CHICAGO

1—Build the Subway Now.

THE FUTURE IN MEXICO.

Recent Washington reports of a steady improvement in the relations of the United States with the Oregon government of Mexico, indicating probability of American recognition of the southern republic, were inclining us toward optimism until the dispatches of Philip Kinsley of THE TRIBUNE staff began to come in. These dispatches, the work of a trained, experienced, and unprejudiced investigator and observer, are making us, if not pessimistic, at least cautious.

What America wants in Mexico is safety for its nationals and their property; not to exploit but to develop the great resources of that rich country. The comparative peace which has marked the Oregon régime had inclined us to the belief that there at last, after ten years of civil war in Mexico, was a government which could guarantee and maintain the desired safety. If such guarantees were given to the United States we were inclined to believe a recognition of the Mexican government which gave them would strengthen that government and work for continued peace in Mexico and an advance of mutual prosperity.

But Mr. Kinsley's observations indicate that the present peace of Mexico is more or less superficial—a treacherous crust over the crater of a volcano. His reports of the seizure of American, British, and Spanish land holdings for division among the Mexican Indians, for instance, does not improve our confidence in the stability of any commercial or diplomatic arrangements which might be made with Oregon.

In view of such reports the refusal of the Harding administration to recognize Mexico without adequate guarantees for the protection of American life and property seems well founded. Our demands for repeal of retroactive clauses in the Mexican constitution which imperil American contracts and property rights are only just efforts to safeguard those who would spend their time and money in the rehabilitation of Mexico to the mutual advantage of the two countries.

We do not desire to exploit Mexico. We do not believe that the building of dams, of irrigation projects, of hydro-electric plants, and of railroads would be exploiting Mexico or the Mexicans. We do not believe that contracts or concessions for the opening of new mineral deposits would be exploiting. We do not believe the development of the vast agricultural possibilities of Mexico would be exploitation. It would be development, out of which Mexico and the Mexicans eventually would reap a measure of benefit even greater than that reaped by the American capital and engineers engaged in the work.

Guarantees under which we can proceed to such development are what we desire. We hope for such stability in the Oregon government as can give these guarantees satisfactorily. But we hope no recognition will be given until it can be given to a government which will be able to make good on such guarantees. The murder and robbery and oppression of Americans and other nationals which took place during the ten years of civil war marked a serious recession in the advance of white civilization. It set Mexico back not only those ten years, but many more years which will be required to reestablish American directorship in the development of the country. We do not want to have such an error repeated. We want access to Mexico, but under conditions which will allow us to go ahead, not backward.

INVESTMENT IN EUROPE.

Former Gov. Lowden is impressed with the desirability of American investment in Europe as a condition precedent to the return of normal prosperity in our country. As a generally this view is not seriously contested. As a place of advice to be acted upon at once it must be received with considerable reserve. Mr. Lowden misunderstands THE TRIBUNE's opinions if he thinks we favor American investment in Europe on any terms but those which should govern sound investment anywhere else. Because we have too much gold is no reason why we can afford to send our good money after bad or in any respect abate the good sense which directs wise investments.

Certainly it is advisable that American resources not required for the proper development of our domestic needs, private and public, should be used abroad, not merely in Europe but wherever they can be safely and profitably disposed. But while European conditions remain as unsatisfactory, politically, financially, and economically, as they now are, American investment must be restricted. There are financial interests in this country deeply committed to European investment and which therefore use all possible influence to induce American aid to Europe, but, as THE TRIBUNE has said repeatedly, there should be no further commitments to Europe unless they are accompanied by satisfactory conditions, and these are by no means easy to procure. The present fiscal situation in most European countries is perilous in the extreme. American money, American credit, will not be put there. Budgets must be balanced, inflation more effectively checked, sacrifices in the form of taxation, deflation, and economy accepted; military enterprises canceled and the enormous drain of huge armaments reduced; dubious imperialist adventures checked, and a practical effort to moderate national rivalries and rancors, and to create productive cooperation in the use of resources must be made before it will be safe to invest our resources on a large scale in Europe. And even in that event American needs, the needs of our railroads, the needs of agriculture, and of our basic industries must first be supplied.

America wishes to help Europe escape from the tragic morass in which the people are struggling. That is not only a service of selfish expediency but one to which our good will inclines us. But the European governments and peoples must make it possible for us to extend aid on conditions compatible with our own security and prosperity. American credit cannot be founded on sentiment. It must have the same basis European capital would require of us if the situation were reversed. In a Europe efficiently at work for reconstruction there is room for American investment, but not in a Europe engaged in internecine warfare and economic and social disintegration.

THE WAY OUT—A SUBWAY.

The street car men say that they now see plainly in the street car maneuvering of Thompson and Small, revealed in the attitude of the city's representatives before the Illinois commerce commission, an intent to reduce the car men's pay, reduce the number of employees, and to lengthen the hours of work.

The car men's union has declared that the men will not give up the advantages they have won in wages and working arrangements and that they will not go back to conditions which existed before. There is only one additional misfortune which the city and state administrations can give the car users. That is a street car strike. Both Thompson and Small evidently fear that the continuance of the 8 and 10 cent fares is beginning to seem a bit raw to the people who have to pay them. They said these fares were the evil work of exploiters and plotters, but for a year and three months they have had responsibility for the situation themselves.

They would be willing to have the fares remain 8 and 10 cents if they could get responsibility fastened upon some one else and attack that person. They do not dare attack the United States court. Their picture of the sinister influences which maltreat the people is getting a bit thin as a screen to cover them.

The desirable thing for the city hall would be to carry high fares and bad service into politics for several years longer, but it may be a question even in Thompson's mind whether public patience and credulity will hold out. The car men have come to think that the city hall will ask them to take a wage cut.

That will give a 5 cent fare, if the cut is deep enough, and it is the only thing which will give one unless a revolutionary change in car operation is made possible. The only way it can be made possible is by building a subway.

Thompson is against a subway unless he can create a new political body, with patronage and bond issuing and taxing power. He wants a scheme of political exploitation and consequently is obstructing the plan to give the car users relief.

The car users are not anxious to have the car men's wages cut. What the car users want is a 5 cent fare and rapid transit. They do not want to spend a half hour longer than necessary in uncomfortable cars and they do not want to pay 3 and 5 cents more than necessary in fares. A cut of the trainmen's wages will not give them the most important improvement, which is improvement in service.

A subway, which can be started now, with money the city now has, would give them reduced fares and increased speed and comfort without hurting the car men.

DESTRUCTIVE LITTLE NAVY MEN.

The little navy men in congress have the persistence and lack of reason of persons with an acute mania. They exhibit a bent for destruction for the sake of destruction. The administration which led the naval powers of the world into a program of economy and peace is dismayed by the congressional determination to reduce the American navy far below its proper place and below the safety line.

The previous administration had as secretary of the navy Mr. Daniels, who demanded the greatest navy in the world. Congress was going along with that administration. The United States was going full speed into costly, dangerous, unnecessary building of warships.

The present administration reversed this program and has substituted international agreements for international rivalry, and the United States, with the other nations, is saving money and avoiding trouble.

There are little navy men in congress, and in the house of representatives they are strong and influential, who insist that the United States shall throw away the advantages it has gained. It is apparent to any sensible man that when competition in the building of battleships has been stopped it begins more acutely in the manning of ships, in the training of men, and in the development of auxiliaries.

The little navy men, going against all reason and prudence, want to reduce the navy personnel to such an extent that the men will not be effectively trained and the ships cannot be effectively handled.

If the American representatives in the Washington conference had agreed to weaken the navy in this fashion with respect to the British and Japanese navies, they would have been condemned as men who had sold out their country. It would have defeated the work of the conference. The senate would not have ratified any of the agreements, and in such case the senate would have been right.

Now it is proposed that congress shall do this evil thing. It is so preposterous and ruinous that it is beyond comprehension.

HARDING'S OPPORTUNITY.

(The Boston Transcript.)

"The 'National Council for the Reduction of Armaments' is the name of a lobby maintained at Washington for the purpose of scabbing the national defense system of the United States. It is appealing by circular for additional funds for its support. It appears to be gratified by the ease with which it has induced the ringleaders of the Republican house of representatives to adopt its program, and points with pride to the reductions in the personnel of the army and navy already recommended for 1923 by the house committee on appropriations.

The lobby is dominated by a motley aggregation of extreme Socialists, parlor bolsheviks, and purveyors of the most degenerate form of pacifism. They did their best to wreck the conference of Washington while it was in session. Failing in that attempt, they now come forward in the guise of a continuation committee having for their mission the ultimate abolishment of the defense system of the United States. Hand in hand with their propaganda to this end goes propaganda in behalf of 'Starving Russia.' Instead of going stepping before the whip of this lobby, a self-respecting house would long ago have turned the light full upon it, exposed its inner workings and all the sources of its subsidy.

If President Harding continues to content himself with essaying the rôle of 'conciliator' between the members of his own cabinet and the ringleaders of his party in the house, who to the disgrace of America dominate the house committee on appropriations, we shall as a people be subjected to the humiliating spectacle of an administration just entering upon its second year hauling down its flag in response to the demands of a lobby of parlor bolsheviks which, having whipped into line the ringleaders of the Republican house, proceeds to give its orders to the constitutional commander-in-chief.

BITTERROOT BILL.

This Bitterroot Bill! Say listen Bo. An' take it from me, you jest go slow. As a pole Bill sure his Callaghan's lye. As a matter of fact he's a dad burned liar. Jade-green hills an' medder stuff. Say hold me Bo, or I'll git ruff. He says he'll take some nice gal's hand. And lead her to that western land. "Where pine clad hills they reach right up— Now listen, Bill you're a lyin' pup. From the way you rave I have inferred That you are the same identical bird Who talked until you got me to buy, About four hundred acres of alkali. And I took myself right by the hand. And led me to that western land;

And I sit me down in a sylvan dell Where the summer was hotter'n the hinges o' hell; And nothin' but dust come from the ground. And there wasn't no acorns for miles around. When winter comes an' ten foot snows. It was too darned cold for a Eskimo; I lost my farm and all my jack. And I hooted it all the long way back. But I've a gat shoots a forty-four pill. What's neatly engraved "Fer Bitterroot Bill!" HUNGRY HUNGRY.

PROVING THAT A BATH TUB HAS HEELS. ELSE HOW COULD CAROLINE HAVE DRAUGHTED IT IN?

(Mime. X in the Sabbath Tribune.) On board this ship is a youth barely 20 years of age, who is of interest to his fellow voyagers merely because he is the son and namesake of one of New York's best known bankers and financiers, Henry Clews. His mother, who was originally Miss Lulu Morris of New York, before she married his father, Henry Clews II, was married to a once nationally known figure, "Freddy" Gebhard.

Mr. Gebhard was devoted to Lily Langtry during her first four years of this country, three decades ago. His presents to her were duly recorded in each day's morning papers. When he purchased a silver bath tub for her it was headlined. Personally we don't think a bath tub is a complimentary present to give the lady of one's heart, but other times, it was considered quite a chic gift then.

GET A HAIR SHINE AT A BOOTBLACK'S STAND.

Dear R. H. L.: I did have "nothing-colored" hair and beautiful straight locks. A few days ago I had some henna put on the hair and now the locks are as a bow. O, what to do! M. H. K. P. S.: The henna won't wash out.

HARVEY, DO YOU REMEMBER WAY BACK WHEN:

EVERYBODY lived in a cave and when the land lord raised the rent we sicked the family python on him!

When we were driving the animals aboard the Ark Noah wanted to refuse tickets to the cooties, but Shem snuggled them aboard and Noah said, "You wait until they have the big war in Europe in two thousand years, those American lads will have something to say about your saying those cooties!"

Jonah came ashore and told about being three days and three nights in the belly of the whale and everybody laughed and said, "Jonah, where'd you get it?"

Daniel was thrown into a lion's den and we saw the picture in the Bijou theater in Babylon, and all said it was a most eaten old lion that couldn't take a bite out of a panacea!

THE GUILTY FLEES WHEN NO MAN PURSUETH.

Dear R. H. L.: Please don't April fool us like that again without putting up a sign. "Today is April Fool's Day," because one of my friends was so skinned he took a taxi to her place of work to escape the hundreds of sworn in police and the state militia.

THE GREEN BAY SHORE.

The tinkling gurgle of the waves lapping through the crevices in the rocks is like a soothing chanson to the city-tortured ear. The long notched shadows of the pines and cedars float like a fringe of ebon lace round the molten bosom of the bay and the frankness from the burning balsam logs is more fragrant than frangipani. Evanescent sparks from the dying fire flash momentarily in the dusk like thoughts that are too beautiful to last and float upward just dreamy ones to join the twinkling stars. Two hands rest together and there is eternity in the soft pressure of a throbbing bosom. Over the bay floats a voice in song, distant, dreamy, like the echo of unspoken thoughts. "To part is to die a little," and then the thrumming of a soft throated guitar, "and all the tomorrows shall be as today." Today is forever and tomorrow shall never come, so it seems, while the senses beat together in soporific harmony.

The waves boom against the rocks like the rattle of Gargantuan drums rolling out the muster of the giants. The air is cold and clammy, the whipped spray stings, and the stark pines along the shore away to the barbaric music of the waves with the wild rhythm of fanatic savages. A solitary steamer beating down the bay seeks to wrap itself in a mantle of black smoke to hide the in-hospitable shore and the hungry rocks where the sea god would lay it as an offering amidst the lesser sacrifices of gasping fish. It is cold, it is cruel, it is lonely—it is tomorrow!

LONG LIFE—AL FRESCO. SOME years ago, writes C. W. R., "you gave some advice about keeping well at this season. I have found it so useful that I am going to ask you to repeat it for the benefit of the many other persons who find themselves 'run down' at this time of the year."

"You said that we had now been more or less indoors for four months, and that order to get toned up we needed to get into the open. You recommended outdoor sports, but, being an elderly person and not strong, these were out of the question for me.

"But I have found that walking can be a very good sport. If one will make it so. I usually walk twice a day, between 11 and 12, preferably when the sun is high, and I banish all hurry and worry from my mind and try to see the things of interest that can be found, if one looks for them, almost anywhere out of doors.

"Often the trees these days are very beautiful, and the sky, too, though, as some one says, many people only look at the latter to see what the weather is going to be!

"Naturally, an object in walking makes it more beneficial, and that is easy to find in the form of a walk with one of my contemporaries let themselves be almost completely hoodwinked during the winter and early spring that I'm going to ask you to say to them, 'Don't, for your sake, let the weather hoodwink you!'

"Old age is not necessarily invalidism, but it is almost certainly so if one gives up walking. I cannot myself walk far or fast, owing to a weak heart, but I can keep my feet comfortably healthy by getting out every day in almost all weathers."

REPLY. I hope there will be many who will follow your example.

Weber, who wrote an excellent book on attaining long life, was an able exponent and example of the benefit of daily walks. He thought every person should walk five miles a day or on one day a week should take a long walk.

At 95 years of age he was said to be still walking five miles a day. He argued that, since most of the weight of the body was due to muscle, health of muscle was all important, and health without work was unthinkable.

That part of your policy relating to interest in things as you walk along is also advisable. It is an integral part of the long educational walks of pupils with the master so popular in Germany, Austria, Switzerland, and the Scandinavian countries.

Walks in the spring are interesting and interesting as well as healthful. The beginnings of life in the animal and vegetable world tell interesting stories to the interested.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Give full names and addresses. No manuscript can be returned. Address Voice of the People, The Tribune.

HERE'S A SIGNED COMPLAINT, MR. WILLIAMSON. Chicago, March 27.—Last evening, while driving our car along Garfield boulevard, we witnessed an accident at Aberdeen street. My friend, who was driving, pulled up at the curb and went to have a closer look at said accident, leaving myself and two friends in the car chatting.

Suddenly a large black limousine bore down upon us, striking our front wheel and tearing the hub cap from same. Lucky? If we had stopped three feet further west we would have been badly injured, if not killed. Then, after striking us, our "hooch loaded friend" rebounded, struck the car ahead of us, and completely demolished the back wheel and again rebounded and tore a large hole in the gasoline tank of another car filled with women and children and standing at the curb. The poor "hooch loaded" must have been thoroughly excited, for he became very rattled, stepped on the gas, and set sail for parts unknown.

Then two worthy motorcycle policemen started in pursuit and overtook the gentleman (?) at Loomis boulevard. Here's where the law enforcement joke comes in.

The officers recognized him as a ward committeeman living at 55th and Loomis. They came back to us and informed us that as there was no one on the spot to sign a complaint at the time of arrest they let him go. Furthermore, they were not giving out his name and address or license number for publication. Ain't that the berries?

Truly poor Mr. Williamson has a tough job on his hands.

A LIVE "DEADHEAD." Chicago, March 28.—I note in this morning's paper under caption, "A Commuter's Complaint" dated March 26, Watson has something to say relative to deadheads securing the seats in the Rock Island trains, while the cash customers are compelled to stand.

What does Watson mean by "deadheads?" Does he refer to the employees of the Rock Island railroad? If so, has he taken into consideration that the employees of that corporation, of which I am one, use the suburban trains for the purpose of getting to their respective offices, where a full day's work is accomplished, and, strange to say, the employees of railroads after their day's work are just as tired as employees of other concerns. After eight hours of tedious work these trains carry us home to our loved ones, and because we are allowed free transportation to and from our work, we are classed as "deadheads." Perhaps Mr. Watson's firm gives out bonuses during the year. Would Mr. Watson like to share his bonus with us?

There is nothing in the transportation act of 1920 or in the interpretation by the interstate commerce commission which says that Watson or any of his kind are compelled to take a train where all the seats are occupied. B. C. B.

NO PLANS. Chicago, March 28.—(Friend of the People.)—When will the sewer and water mains be put in Jarvis avenue, between Western avenue and Rockwell street?

J. M. S. We have no record of any request for sewer and water connections in Jarvis avenue between Western and Rockwell street and the plans have been made for these improvements thus far.

EDWARD J. GLACKIN, Secretary Board of Local Improvements.

FOR THE SIGNING OF SOME EDITORIALS. Davenport, Ia., March 27.—Is there any objection to saying who is writing that "Commuter" stuff which actually gives your editorial page?

What has literature to do with a newspaper? W. W. WHITMAN.

A FARMER TURNS PROPHET. Shullsburg, Wis., May 28.—By way of introduction, I will say I am suffering from the curse of high taxes and low prices. In your editorial Monday, March 27, you turn your pogrom of spleen at Senator La Follette. The United States senate is composed of four senators-to-wit: Borah, Frank Johnson, and La Follette. As for the rest of them, mere clay, to be molded as their masters will.

For thirty pieces of silver Judas Iscariot betrayed the Savior. What was the price for which they betrayed the virtue of the last general election?

Senator La Follette will be sent back to Washington, the others returned to obscurity. W. H. WILST.

HERE'S HOW YOU GET THE NIGHTLY RADIO CONCERT

Tribune Expert Explains New Fad's Simplicity.

This is the second of a series of articles concerning radio telephony, its history, its recent popularization through the installation of broadcasting stations, the methods used in the manufacture and the sale of radio apparatus, and other facts, presented by The Tribune to give its readers a comprehensive view of the industry which has jumped overnight into a national fad. Inquiries should be addressed to the Radio Editor, Chicago Tribune.

BY CHARLES SLOAN.

"This is station K—Y—W. The first number on our musical program for tonight is—"

With these words the call of the radio comes nightly to an estimated 60,000 persons in the Chicago district. Some are "hooked in" with crude, home-made receiving sets; some have wireless equipment worth several thousand dollars. But to all the call comes and nightly the audience sits spellbound while the best of Chicago's musical talent performs for them. How is it done? Easily enough.

On the sixteenth floor of the Commonwealth Edison building an ordinary office suite has been converted into a "studio." The walls are covered with burlap; there's a couple of stand lamps, a grand piano and a phonograph.

Equipment Looks Simple.

There isn't any great m...

APRIL 17 SET AS DATE FOR SECOND TRIAL OF QUESSE

Denying the motion of attorneys for William F. Quesse, president of the flat janitors' union, for the return of the records of the union seized in a recent raid on their headquarters, Judge John A. Swanson yesterday fixed April 17 as the date of the second trial of Quesse and nine other officials of the union.

The men are charged with conspiracy to bomb, extort, and commit malicious mischief. The first trial on the same charges resulted in a mistrial on Feb. 5, following a disagreement of the jury.

Trical equipment or strings of wires scattered about. Instead there's a little quarter inch rod running up from a base on the floor and dangling from it is an instrument that looks like an ordinary tomato can.

Inside the instrument is a telephone transmitter—the same thing in principle as the transmitter on your home phone. The wires from this lead to a little keyboard sunk into the desk of the operator a few feet away. From this the wires lead up to a room on the roof.

The singer or speaker stands somewhere near the "tomato can" and makes a noise. The noise is picked up by the transmitter and carried to the roof in exactly the same way as your voice is carried to the telephone central.

Real Work in Cabinet. In this room on the roof is a cabinet which looks like a couple of ordinary clothes lockers. On another table stands a telephone and a receiving set similar perhaps to the one you "listen in" with.

It is in the cabinet that the real work is done—work of such a technical character that description here is unnecessary.

The problem of the broadcasting station is to turn the current traveling over the telephone wires from the studio into electro-magnetic waves and hurl them into the air to travel at great speed everywhere.

Electrical Stone in Air Pond. It throws an electrical stone into an air pond. When the resulting wave hits your aerial wire above your roof the effect of that wave travels into your receiving set and the receiver converts the waves—which keep on coming at high speed—into the voice.

Here again we have the same comparison with your telephone receiver. It, too, converts the waves of electricity carried over the wires into the voice again. And so you get your concert.

Station KYW is operated by the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company. The success of the broadcasting is due mainly to the efforts of George H. Jaspert, publicity director, and his assistant, Wilson Wetherbee.

From the beginning of the concert until the final "Good Night" both of these men are standing by—they work all day in addition to answering the many letters which come pouring in—to see that you get the concert right. They work at the desk in the studio. It is generally one of them whom you hear making the announcements of the programs.

Six Operators on Job. They have as assistants a corps of six operators who are stationed in the room on the roof. These men watch the electrical equipment and keep it in working order.

All the broadcasting of music is done in the studio. For some reason the local telephone company has decided that it won't lend the use of its wires for the pleasure of the radio fan—and consequently musical programs from the city's great organs, orchestras, bands, and other like institutions are denied you. Telephone companies in other cities don't enforce this restriction. Maybe some day it will change here.

Will KYW continue to broadcast? Westinghouse officials say it will. They are now planning to increase the power of the station 50 per cent. The new outfit will be installed by May 15.

5 INDICTED FOR EMIGRANT GRAFT

New York, April 3.—[Special.]—A government investigation begun many months ago into stories of graft on Ellis island, resulted today in federal grand jury indictments of five persons on charges of conspiring to defraud the government, altering official records, accepting bribes and unlawfully admitting aliens. Four of the defendants were formerly immigration inspectors, who resigned during the investigation. They are William Alexander, John Donovan, William Leonard, and Jeremiah Fitzgerald. The other defendant is Tobias Levy, a bar-

'LITTLE NAVY' PROGRAM SEEMS TO LOSE GROUND

Washington, D. C., April 3.—[Special.]—The revolt in the house against the "little navy" program grew formidable today with President Harding's backing.

It is still too early to forecast results, but it would be no surprise if the appropriations committee got a decisive drubbing. The discontent originated when the committee forced through its army cut has been in creating and the supporters of the navy are confident they will be able to wage an effective fight.

An omnibus bill giving legislative authority and approval for the carrying out of the naval limitation treaty, recently ratified by the senate, is being prepared and will be taken up by the house in the near future.

The bill will provide for the cancellation of contracts, the conversion of battle cruisers into airplane carriers, and the scrapping of other vessels as agreed on. The bill will complete congressional approval of the treaty.

Representative C. N. McArthur (Ore.) called on President Harding today and assured him that sentiment in the house was turning against the appropriation committee's "little navy" program.

The appropriation committee wants the enlisted personnel to be 67,000 men. Up to a few days ago it wanted 65,000 men, but upon further consideration agreed to add 2,000 men. Mr. McArthur declared this action indicated a growing realization by the committee of its weak position. Representative Mondell (Wyo.), Republican leader, "little navy" man, also conferred with the President. Many members who have been counted upon to support the "little navy" plan are beginning to show concern. They want to cut the navy to the lowest possible minimum, but at the same time they don't want to embarrass the President in his foreign policy, which they realize is based upon the 5-5-3 ratio.

Most of the scores of services performed by the modern funeral director are unseen and unnoticed.

Good Firm Flesh—

Increased Weight, Strength and Energy—Amazing New Food Factor.

Thousands who have always been complaining about being weak, thin, emaciated and run-down may now find in Yeast Vitamins when used in connection with Nuxated Iron the very thing which will often quickly help them to put on good firm flesh, round out face and figure and increase their strength, energy and endurance, provided their blood contains a sufficient quantity of oxygenated iron to enable them to assimilate their food properly. Without organic iron both food and Vitamins are absolutely useless, as your body loses the power to transform lifeless food into living cells, flesh, muscle and tissue, therefore your food merely passes through your body without doing you any good.

It therefore appears that in practically all cases where Vitamins are necessary, organic iron is also necessary.

To prove to you the surprising results which we feel should be quickly obtained from this valuable combination, arrangements have been made with druggists in the city to give you a LARGE DOLLAR PACKAGE OF GENUINE YEAST VITAMINE TABLETS ABSOLUTELY FREE, with your purchase of a bottle of organic Nuxated Iron. Take your Vitamins Tablets before meals and organic Nuxated Iron after meals. Weigh yourself before you start and again after ten days and see how much you have increased in weight, also in strength, vigor and energy. If you are not perfectly satisfied with your weight increase and the general results obtained, the manufacturers will promptly refund your money.

IMPORTANT: We recommend that you do not take Vitamins unless you wish your weight increased—if you merely wish greater strength, energy, physical and mental vigor, we recommend that you take Nuxated Iron only.

WE'RE A RATHER NICE SORT, FINDS MARGOT, LEAVING

But Her Boul Mich Drive Was Disappointing.

New York, April 3.—A large audience tonight heard Margot Asquith's final verdict on America. They were surprised to find that, after all, she thought America a fine country and Americans as a whole mighty nice folks.

The noted Briton—wife of a former prime minister and author of one of the frankest series of pen pictures of eminent Britons that country has ever read—poked a little fun at us. But she ended with a fervid tribute to America—to "America's great President, her fine government, her vital, generous citizenry"—and urged the nurturing of stronger bonds between the two nations.

"What could we not do if we stood together?" she exclaimed. "One thing we could do—we could make it very difficult to have another war."

"Could Have Hugged Her."

Her first experience with a New York audience was the first thing she touched on tonight. She had had a bad crossing, she said, and felt ill when she made her first appearance.

"I was much relieved," she declared, "when a woman in the gallery called out, 'We've had enough of you. We want our money back.' I could have hugged her."

"But since then," she continued, "I have been in Boston, in Philadelphia, in Chicago, in Kalamazoo—O, in ever so many places—and I have had many wonderful experiences. The generosity with which I have been received, I never shall forget."

With that much of a start, she dived into the prohibition question.

"When I came over I thought I would find everybody happy and sober. Happy I find them, but—"

Happy I find them, but—"an expressive shrug finished the sentence.

"The prohibition idea is fine," she continued, "but I don't think it is working out as was expected. It may help the poor—certainly it is fine to be rid of the corner saloon—but I doubt if it won't have to be modified."

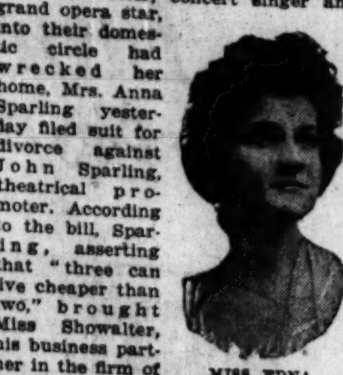

Troubled at Niagara.

Landscape spectacles came next. "When I went to Buffalo to see Niagara falls," she said, "I thought we could climb a long, arduous road through sylvan country. Instead we went through streams of motor lorries and trams. I began to wonder when we would get to the lovely wild country."

"And Chicago—we drove out Michigan boulevard, with the lovely water at our side and the beautiful drive before us. I thought surely we would come to a cathedral or something magnificent at the end. And we found a garishly lighted bathing beach."

MEXICO—LAND OF PROMISE; THAT'S ALL, PROMISES!

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

El Paso, Tex., April 3.—[Special.]—Across the Rio Grande from El Paso, beyond Juarez, the Chihuahua desert begins. Winds come out of the hills and heave the sand into strange heaps and stinging swirls of dust. But "the winners of the morning stars" count no cities. The waves of ancient race movement that passed through here have left no trace above the barren plateau. A day's travel by train and only a few green fields and a handful of cattle.

bandits ruined their hopes. The Mexicans are now flocking down from Canada.

Yankee Dream Tells Story.

Americans also have a plan for this country, and in one plan—the Terrell contract, and the method of Oregon in dealing with it—lies the story of the Mexican land problem, which stands today as the unsolved heritage of the revolution and the chief obstacle to Mexican reconstruction and recognition.

Gen. Luis Terrazas one fine day was given by government grant a tract of land reaching from a certain mountain peak to another peak, or so many days' ride dragging a bull's hide as a marker. Today it is acknowledged as a 4,000,000 acre tract in the heart of the Chihuahua valley, subject to irrigation, with a fifteen to sixteen inch rainfall. From the railroad it looks like a waste.

American Tries to Help.

A. J. McQuatters is not a philanthropist, nor a sentimentalist. He is just a practical American mining man and promoter, who saw in this Terrazas tract a chance to make a good deal. He got the Guaranty Trust and the Foundation company people behind him and arranged to buy the Terrazas land from the old general at $1 an acre.

His plan was to cut it into small tracts and sell it on twenty year payments to any one, Mexican or American, low first payment and help in development—the same kind of a scheme that has resulted in many rich colonies in our own west.

With the option in his pocket McQuatters approached the governor of Chihuahua, Ignacio Enriquez. The young governor is a graduate of the University of Illinois and is something of a socialist. He said at first that the state would not agree to turn over such an empire to Americans; that he proposed to expropriate the lands and give them to the people.

Enriquez agrees to join. In time, however, with pressure from McQuatters' patient explanation and more experience in the workings of the agrarian law, Enriquez decided that the American scheme was the only practical way and that he would back it. The promoters went to Mexico City and got Oregon's approval.

The state legislature signed a contract exempting this land from the agrarian law. This was a feature that the bankers behind the deal insisted upon. They would not take a chance without it.

Radicals in Mexico City began to stir. Their pet agrarian law was being undermined, they said. This state would be turned into another Texas. The governor was called a traitor. Demonstrations were held in Chihuahua City against the deal. The legislature took back its contract. Oregon began to waver. Enriquez and McQuatters went to Mexico City a few days ago to pin Oregon down. The report was that the deal was closed.

Oregon Weakens at Last. Then, two days ago, came the news that Oregon had switched and that the land would be taken over by the government and parceled out to the Mexicans. Without great government help, which is unlikely to materialize because of lack of finances, the project is spoiled. Oregon had to give way to the radicals in his camp.

The situation is significant as to future developments. Incidentally, the retroactive clause of the constitution is again violated and Gen. Terrazas loses his 4,000,000 acres.

In Chihuahua also the International Land and Live Stock company of Chicago is facing loss of lands. Under a state decree issued March 25 about 15,000 acres are taken from this company and given to the inhabitants of the village of Villa Lopez, who petitioned for it under the agrarian law of 1915 and Article 27 of the constitution.

What Chihuahuans Can Do.

"The lands affected by the grant to Villa Lopez," the decree adds, "are expropriated for the account of the federal government for public use, without injury to the rights of the proprietors, so that they may claim the indemnity to which there may be a right, within the time set forth by the law and before the proper authorities."

This is signed by the president of the state agrarian commission. Protest has been made to the state department. This bears directly on the stand that Secretary Hughes took when he demanded a written guarantee and a signed treaty from the Mexican government before recognition.

Hughes Warns Mexico.

"The question is vital," Mr. Hughes stated in his note, "because of the provisions inserted in the Mexican constitution promulgated in 1917. If these provisions are to be put into effect retroactively, the properties of American citizens will be confiscated on a great scale. This would constitute an international wrong of the gravest character, and this government could not submit to its accomplishment."

Chihuahua land is idle and corn and wheat are being imported from the United States. Last year the state produced only 800,000 bushels of corn and 800,000 bushels of wheat. In 1910 there were 1,850,000 head of cattle in the state. In 1921 there were 120,000.

2 PLANES CRASH AND 2 OFFICERS DIE AT HOUSTON

Houston, Tex., April 3.—Two airplanes from Ellington field crashed near South Houston this morning and came down in flames. Both pilots were killed. Maj. John W. Simons, of Charleston, S. C., pilot of one plane, was burned to death and Lieut. O. H. Fitzpatrick of Sacramento, Cal., pilot of the other machine, died a few minutes after the accident.

At the time of the accident about fifteen planes were engaged in maneuvers. It is believed that the two planes were very near together and a sudden puff of wind drove them into a collision.

JAPAN PREPARES STAGGERING BILL FOR SHANTUNG

Tokio Has a New Plan to Hold On to Province.

BY CHARLES DAILEY.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
(Copyright, 1922, By The Chicago Tribune.)
TSINGTAO, April 2.—With China about to be engulfed in a civil war, the treasury empty, and the government impotent, Japan prepares a staggering bill for the payment of the Shantung railway. Never has fortune smiled more favorably for Nippon to retain its grip on the province, for China is unable to pay a fraction of Tokyo's price for withdrawal. With the bill drawn up Japan calmly waits for the Tientsin commission, which is still debating in Peking over the trifling question of railway police.

Meanwhile Gen. Chang Tsao Lin plunges North China into terror by commanding that all railway equipment be made ready for the movement of more than 40,000 troops along the railways from Peking to Tchow, province of Shantung, for simultaneous warfare upon Wu Pei Fu, as Sun Yat Sen attacks Changsha, which he is rapidly approaching.

Japs Want Premium.
Being in such a situation, China must either accept Japan's terms or abandon hope of recovering the railway. The sum of $31,000,000 agreed upon in Washington is not all Japan is prepared to ask. The exact total is being carefully guarded and will be given out piecemeal, since a flat demand will certainly precipitate a revolt of the people against the Peking government.

In addition to enormous railway improvements, Japan expects compensation for barracks and other buildings erected along the line, and also wireless outfits in Tientsin and Tainan, and a large hospital in Tientsin, with two years' retirement pay for the Japanese employees, numbering several thousand. Topping this, comes other millions for harbor improvements.

Talk of Loan.
Dr. Akayama, civil governor, says, furthermore, Japanese interests have invested heavily and recommends that Tokio grant China a loan wholly apart from the railway, covering the investments, which he asserts would require 100,000,000 yen ($20,000,000), but this includes the $30,000,000 invested in improvements and sale of fields.

It is rumored in Tokio that China is bankrupt and is questioning whether it can pay anything.

China's only hope is to accept a loan from Japan, totaling several hundred million dollars, in which event Japan as a mortgage will insist on the operation of the railway to insure the payment of interest.

TOKIO DECIDES TO TAKE ARMY OUT OF SIBERIA

Clashes with Advancing Reds.

BY RODERICK MATHESON.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
(Copyright, 1922, By The Chicago Tribune.)
TOKIO, April 3.—It is reported that the Japanese cabinet has decided to withdraw all Japanese troops from Siberia in order to avoid a clash with the army of the China government which is advancing on Vladivostok.

The Chita troops at some points have entered the territory over which the Japanese claim jurisdiction. The Japanese are said to be disarming all retreating Vladivostok troops as they enter Japanese lines.

Dispatches from Japanese correspondent in Siberia report frequent minor clashes between the Chita Reds and the Japanese, with the latter avoiding aggressions to the extent of withdrawing before the Reds' advance. This passive attitude is reported as encouraging the Reds, who are pressing forward on both wings and now almost envelope the Japanese garrison at Spasskaya, where the Japanese civilians are evacuating.

With armored cars the Reds advanced within four miles of Spasskaya on Saturday, exchanging shots with the Japanese outposts, who withdrew without offering to hold ground.

On Wednesday the Japanese command dispatched a note to Chita demanding the immediate disarming of the invading Reds and that Chita withdraw its forces at once.

PROBST'S STATUS
AS INSANE ALIEN
UP FOR DECISION
New York, April 3.—[Special.]—August Probst, the young Swiss waiter of the Ritz Hotel, Pittsburgh, who alleges there is a conspiracy to have him deported because he fell in love with the daughter of a wealthy club member, was brought before a board of special inquiry at Ellis Island today.

The board that heard the case was made up of Immigration Inspectors Frank Hayes, Michael Brophy, and Edward Zucker. The hearing was private, but Bernard H. Sandler, attorney for Probst, characterized the proceedings as ridiculous.

Assistant Immigration Commissioner Landis, he said, dominated the hearing. Notwithstanding Federal Judge Knox's suggestion that deportation should be sought on the grounds that Probst was an alien deserter from a ship, Mr. Sandler said, the authorities asked yesterday that he be barred solely on the ground that he was mentally unfit.

Mr. Sandler left for Washington late last night to appeal to Secretary of Labor Davis and Secretary of Treasury Mellon.

BURCH JURYMEN DISMISSED AFTER 'TAMPERING' TALK

BY EDWARD DOHERTY.
Los Angeles, Cal., April 3.—[Special.]—Judge Sidney N. Reeve today dismissed the twelve prospective jurors who were to have tried Arthur C. Burch for murder, discharged the venue of 150 impaneled last week, and ordered a new venue called. The trial itself was continued until next Monday.

The charges that members of the jury panel had been improperly approached by investigators representing the district attorney's office caused the judge's action.

District Attorney Thomas L. Woolwine agreed with Paul W. Schenck, chief of defense counsel, that the panel should be released and an investigation begun.

Mr. Woolwine explained that while it was the practice of his office to make an investigation of those drawn for jury service, he had given strict orders that no prospective juror was to be questioned.

ALDERMAN SAYS QUIETUS WAS PUT ON FIRE PROBE

Charges that the joint subcommittee investigating the fire department had "lifted only one side of the lid and has proceeded with a whitewash brush in one hand and a bucket of chloride of lime in the other," led to a decision by the aldermen yesterday afternoon to proceed with their inquiry, sparing no one.

The committee began a week ago by investigating the west side fire, but wandered into bypaths which brought the dissension between the firemen's association and Business Manager John P. Cullerton into the spotlight and caused charges that friction is undermining the department.

Second Assistant Marshal John C. McDonnell made the "whitewash brush" charge.

Hits at Cullerton.

"I stood here and answered every question put to me, but when Cullerton had answered a series of carefully prepared questions with a series of carefully prepared speeches he refused to be cross-examined," McDonnell asserted.

Ald. O'Toole, chairman of the building committee section of the subcommittee, protested and declared his intention of withdrawing. Other aldermen charged him with "crawfishing," and Chairman Armitage exclaimed: "We have gone too far to withdraw now." The reopened inquiry into the personnel of the department will begin tomorrow.

New Fire Evidence.

A statement made by William D. Wagner, engineer in the Austin building, was read, Wagner narrating that at the night before the fire a colored man employed by the Chicago Lamp and Fixture company, 521 West Jackson boulevard, where the fire started, dumped two "basket truck loads of raggs soaked with varnish, oil, benzine, or turpentine" on the floor of the Austin building boiler room.

"The colored man told me at the time that he had another basket full, but he didn't bring it down. I think the Wagner statement read.

The raggs were so oil soaked that Wagner ordered his firemen to wet them down before putting them in the boiler, according to the engineer's statement.

Harry Hand, special policeman assigned to the Austin building, said it was the custom to turn the water off in the building at night and that, except at the sprinkler heads, no water was available on the upper floors because of this fact.

MADE IN EUROPE DIVORCES TO GET U. S. COURT TEST

New York, April 3.—(Special.)—Counsel for Mrs. Edith Kelly Gould said today they would go to the United States Supreme court, if necessary, for a judicial determination of the questions whether a wealthy American traveling or temporarily sojourning in a foreign country can divorce his American wife with the aid of foreign divorce laws and have such a decree recognized as valid in the United States.

Gustav A. Rogers of counsel for Mrs. Gould said determination of this issue by the American courts would be of widespread importance. Besides the Gould case, it is at stake in at least two other notable international divorce suits—former Senator Henry F. Hollis' divorce in Bulgaria and Louis N. Hammerling's rabbinical decree obtained in Austria.

In these two cases there is the added question of the validity of subsequent marriages.

Edith Kelly-Gould is now suing Frank J. Gould in the courts of New York state. She has brought two actions, the first asking for a divorce decree on statutory grounds and the second asking to recover $100,000 for money spent by her for clothing, food, etc., between April, 1918, when she and her husband separated, and September, 1921, when she began her action for divorce.

In his answer to the divorce action Mr. Gould has set up that he obtained a valid decree of divorce in Paris, so that she is not his wife and therefore is not competent to sue him for divorce.

Contentment the Key to Yellow Cab Service

The contentment that prevails amongst our 3,000 drivers is largely responsible for the service this company is giving to you.

All the things we are doing, all the care we are taking to operate the best cab company in the world, would pale into nothingness if these men were unhappy or discontented—if they were not decently paid or if they were sworn at by the "bosses."

No "boss" employed by this company ever fails to recognize the fact that these men are human beings, and that rough treatment of workers belongs entirely to a gone and forgotten age.

The "Master and Man" idea was never in force at this institution. There are such things as "directing heads" of departments, but just remember, please, that everyone of them graduated from the driver's seat. We follow the plan of advancing men who have earned the right in our service. We never bring in an outsider.

In other words, we are as deeply interested in keeping these men happy as we are in pleasing you. And by keeping them happy and free from some of the usual burdens that oppress the average worker, we are serving you in a way that no cab company has ever served you before.

Wherever there is general contentment in a business house, nothing save some freak of Providence can stop its healthy progress.

This company is not financially interested in the operation of any other cab company in Chicago or any other city in America.

THE HORTON WAY THE EASY WAY—THE HORTON WAY THE EASY WAY—THE HORTON WAY

The Horton Ironer irons skirts, blouses, shirts, undergarments, children's dresses, summer dresses, as well as all flat work, and everything else any machine has ever ironed.

No Need to Have Backaches

Doing the washing by hand is bad enough. Doing the ironing by hand is worse, especially since the Horton Open-end Ironer is available on such easy payments that you can indeed "iron as you pay."

The Horton does in one hour all that the best hand worker does in four—and does it better. The Horton is easy to operate, absolutely safe, can't get out of order, rolls against the wall when not in use, costs less to run than an electric iron—and permanently ends ironing-day backache!

Few women really know what an Ironer will save, in time, money and physical effort. Those that do, regard them as even more necessary than their washing machine. So will you, if you will make sure to see the Horton Open-end Ironer demonstrated at one of the stores named below:

NEED FOR CORN AS FOOD SEEN BY U. S. EXPERT

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

Corn growing will be made worth while in the future if millers carry out plans launched at a conference of the American Corn Millers' federation held at the Congress yesterday. Millers from various parts of the United States attended the meeting to hear the report of Dr. J. A. Le Clerc, special trade commissioner of the federal department of commerce, who is back from Europe after making a six months' study of the principal markets abroad.

Dr. Le Clerc emphasized the necessity of making a better use of corn. He considers it a great economic problem to prevent corn from being "unnecessarily" consumed by animals.

Visited Fourteen Countries.

He visited and held conferences with bankers, importers, brewers, cooperative societies and relief and charitable organizations in fourteen foreign countries, explaining wherever he went the value of corn as a human food. Large exportation of corn may be expected if a reasonable amount of propaganda is spread in Europe, he said. People in Austria, Holland, Denmark, Czechoslovakia and Constantinople are good prospective customers. He thinks Hungary might be included in the list. There is no restriction on the Czechoslovakia breweries. The great difficulty in selling corn to be used in making bread in that country is that the government regulations prohibit its use in bread "unless distinctly declared."

Not Only Good but Cheap.

It was pointed out at the conference that the corn sent over by relief workers had created a demand for corn in Europe in the future. Europeans are learning that corn is not only a good food but it is a cheap food.

When the buying power of Europeans is restored there will be a much better market for corn, but as Dr. Le Clerc stated, "the conditions in Europe are such that there is hardly any system of carrying on business which is satisfactory to the importers and exporters alike." The rate of exchange is causing this trouble.

W. N. Adams, president of the millers' organization, and E. G. Montgomery, chief of the foodstuffs division of the department of commerce, also spoke. People like corn so well in Russia they run up and down the railroad tracks picking up scattered grains.

The Maltese Export Producers' association will hold a meeting today at the Congress hotel.

HUSBAND WORE HIS PAJAMAS IN THE WRONG FLAT

Alimony of $40,000 and solicitor's fees of $1,000 will be included in the decree of divorce which Judge Joseph Sabath indicated yesterday he would grant Mrs. Theresa Wolff.

Mrs. Wolff, 5533 South Paulina street, Jacob Wolff, president of the New City Packing company, is the defendant.

Mrs. Wolff, who recently filed an alienation suit for $15,000 damages against Mrs. Mabel Pressler, 5724 Maryland avenue, based her suit for divorce on evidence discovered by her when she is said to have found Wolff in the Pressler apartment.

"I went to Mrs. Pressler's flat on Feb. 9, 1922," said Mrs. Wolff in answer to questions by her attorney, Charles E. Erbstein. "My brother and several detectives accompanied me. I followed a detective in, and there was Mr. Wolff dressed in pajamas and Mrs. Pressler in a kimono."

You would be surprised at the great power-loss in the gear-boxes of your car — when lubricated in the ordinary way.

HOOPER DECLARES U. S. RAIL BOARD WILL NOT BARTER

Reports that the United States railroad labor board, in fixing wages of railway employees, might be induced to barter pay slashes for rate reductions were repudiated by Ben W. Hooper, vice chairman of the board, during yesterday's wage hearing here.

"It ought to be understood," said Mr. Hooper, "that the labor board will not put itself in the position of trading wages for prospective or already revised reductions of rates, passenger or freight, or both. The board will consider only elements named in the transportation act, on which wages are to be based."

This declaration was prompted by a dispute between Frank J. Warne, statistician, testifying for the shop crafts employees, and J. L. Coleman, counsel for the Santa Fe. Mr. Warne contended there was no inevitable relation between rates and wages.

Hearing of the Pennsylvania suit enjoining the labor board from rendering decisions was started before Federal Judge George Page in the afternoon.

Shipping Board Offers to Pay $1,000,000 on Claims

Washington, D. C., April 3.—The shipping board has offered to settle for less than $1,000,000 amortization and profits claims of wooden shipbuilders totaling approximately $8,000,000, officials said today.

Theodore Roosevelt, Ship of Excursionists, Is Sold

Cleveland, O., April 3.—The excursion steamer Theodore Roosevelt was sold at federal auction here today to I. C. Kahn and W. H. Lamprecht of Cleveland. Creditors who held liens for $12,000 debts were the only bidders. They bid in their liens plus $22,000. The sale was effected to satisfy liens amounting to $74,000 held on the steamer by the new owners against the Cleveland-Erie Steamship company. The sale must be approved by Federal Judge Westenhaver.

DEATHS WERE ACCIDENTAL.

A coroner's jury yesterday returned a verdict of accidental death in the case of Mrs. Frances Hobbs, 55, and her son, James J., 15 months, found dead Sunday from carbon monoxide gas poisoning.

21 YEARS OF KNOWING HOW

They divide all women into two classes

Do you know in which class you belong?

NERVE specialists say that there are two main classes of people:

(1) Those who have a great store of reserve energy on which to draw; (2) those who quickly exhaust their nervous energy and whose bodies are slow in repairing the loss.

The first type of woman may suffer only local attacks of fatigue — brain, eyes, etc.

The second type, however, faces the risk of general disorders. If the fatigue poisons (and we know now that fatigue is a real poison) accumulate in the body without relief, there comes a final breakdown.

More and more, women are coming to recognize fatigue as an enemy from which they must protect themselves.

One great cause of fatigue

Modern life is a drain on every woman's strength. You cannot change the pace at which you live, but you can protect yourself from useless wastes of energy.

One of the worst of these wastes is the strain of standing and walking on hard floors and pavements. The average woman takes 8000 steps a day—receives 8000 separate shocks to the delicate nervous system.

O'Sullivan's Safety Cushion Heels relieve this strain. Trim, elastic, springy, they are made for every type of shoe.

Make sure you get real protection

Ordinary rubber heels are so soft and crumbly that they quickly wear down, or so hard and lifeless that you might as well wear leather. O'Sullivan's Heels combine the proper toughness with the greatest springiness.

In spite of the fact that O'Sullivan's cost your repairman more than other heels, the price to you is generally the same. The repairman could make a bigger immediate profit on any one of a half dozen substitutes. But when he puts on O'Sullivan's, he knows you'll come back to him again.

Ask for O'Sullivan's—see that they are attached. The O'Sullivan Heel Company.

William found a pocketbook But the string jerked it back

It looked like a happy discovery as it lay there on the sidewalk—until the discoverer reached to pick it up. Then the hidden string jerked it away. All William got was disappointment.

That's the way a good many people have found it to be with the comfort and cheer they thought they had secured in tea and coffee. When they came to depend on it—there was a hidden string, and nothing left but disappointment.

The drug, caffeine, in tea and coffee, is a nerve stimulant. Constant stimulation of the nerves often produces rebellion that takes the form of sleeplessness, headaches, irritability, high blood pressure. That's the string to tea and coffee.

Postum, that wholesome and delightful cereal beverage, is completely satisfying and there's no harmful quality whatsoever, to jerk away the comfort which you find in this splendid table drink. Any member of the family may enjoy Postum with any meal—and there will be no after-regrets.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes. Sold by grocers.

IN the WAKE of the NEWS

BIG TEN AMATEURISM.

IG TEN college faculty representatives and athletic directors have tightened the reins on amateurism. This was anticipated by the Wake of the News.

The Wake of the News, with several directors who attended the recent meeting here from which no statement was issued.

Instead of allowing summer baseball, the Big Ten has made it almost impossible for a collegian to play on any team by inserting the provision that he professionalizes himself if an admission fee is charged to games. That eliminates playing on most industrial and work teams. In the past the collegian worked in a factory or store and played on the factory or town team drawing a modest salary for his labor but nothing for his ball playing. The new interpretation is the most drastic ever pronounced in the Big Ten.

What was not announced publicly is that athletic directors agreed among themselves not only to proceed against violations of the code when brought to their attention but also to ferret out violators. Summer baseball has been a "joke" for years. When any one was "caught" he was debarred, but several directors admitted in private they made no serious effort to do so.

The Wake always has been open minded on summer baseball. In fact, rather inclined to allow students to receive money for their skill during the vacation period. The present rule, however, has been intolerable, placing a premium on deception. Either summer baseball should be allowed or the rule against it should be enforced. The Big Ten has decided for the latter.

Baseball Biographies.

NO. 2—THE RABBIT.

Capt. George Herman, King of the Swat, Wallops the home runs all over the lot; that often we never find out where they are. Capt. G. Herman is modest and mum; tried to get chummy with the press; but he was up with Laddie, smiling and grinning.

He settled right down, took his medicine seat, and now he's O. K. on K. M.'s balance sheet.

Here's looking at you, Bambino, old top. May you forever continue to cop!

FARM and GARDEN BY FRANK RIDGWAY

IT DOESN'T PAY TO SPROUT SEED POTATOES.

TIME is wasted when gardeners go to the trouble of greening and sprouting potatoes. Many believe that to such extent that they have not failed to sprout their potatoes for many years and will no doubt be surprised when they are told that scientists have shattered their theories.

For four years experiments have been carried on at the Missouri station in an effort to see if there was anything to be gained in sprouting and greening potatoes before planting. These tests have shown that the practice is not worth while.

The old time truckers' method of taking the potatoes out of storage about two weeks before planting time was followed. The tubers were spread out in a thin layer in a basement where the light would strike them. This starts the sprouts to growing and develops a green color later if enough light is admitted. The potatoes were allowed to sprout for ten days and are then cut into uniform pieces and planted by hand to prevent breaking the sprouts.

The tests show that the practice was unprofitable. According to the report it actually decreased the yield of No. 1 potatoes and increased the percentage of cull tubers.

MEYERS WINS AS FOE PLAYS SAFE AND FANS JEER

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

It was one of those affairs in which a contest absolutely devoid of action, a contest in which the spectators, by the decision route in the main event of the show conducted by Jim Sullivan at the Coliseum last night.

It was one of those affairs in which a contest absolutely devoid of action, a contest in which the spectators, by the decision route in the main event of the show conducted by Jim Sullivan at the Coliseum last night.

It was one of those affairs in which a contest absolutely devoid of action, a contest in which the spectators, by the decision route in the main event of the show conducted by Jim Sullivan at the Coliseum last night.

On the other hand, Meyers was willing. He forced the wrestling in by pulling at the ropes and earned the decision by aggressive action. At times Meyers went to the mat purposefully to permit Parcaut to make a contest of it. He made futile attempts to get his opponent by a body scissor, but did not once resort to the toe hold, which he threw Meyers in his only other meeting.

In the first round it looked as if the best would terminate quickly. The top of the bell they mixed and Parcaut threw Johnny to the mat. A moment later Meyers clamped on a double wrist lock, which he continued to a head scissor and a body scissor lock. Parcaut then asserted his strength and broke the hold. A moment later Johnny secured the same hold and the Hawkeye grappled repeated.

Crowd Boos Pair.

After this round the contest was marked by pulling tactics. Johnny tried time and time again to secure double wrist locks from standing position, but missed each time. As the match wore on the crowd booted the men and shouts of "fake" rent the air. Parcaut might be given an advantage in two rounds, the eighth and seventh, while the seventh and twelfth were about even. The champion won the other sessions through aggressive action.

It was a disappointing show to 5,000 fans. The receipts were estimated at $10,000. Meyers weighed 161 pounds at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon and Parcaut 156½. The champion was one pound overweight and Parcaut gained his 125 forfeit.

Talbot Plus Kilonia.

In the semi-windup Lou Talbot of the west side sprung a surprise by defeating John Kilonia of Norfolk, Va., after 435 of wrestling in the sixth round. Talbot won the fall with a double wrist lock and cross body thump.

Paul Prehn, wrestling instructor at University of Illinois, won an easy fall over Tom Ruzewicz, local Polish middleweight, in 9:15 of the first round.

Helen Engel of Dubuque won over Carl Furness in the second preliminary after 2:50 of the fourth round. He employed a headlock and body scissors.

FAST BALL TEAM AT ARMOUR TECH; GAME ON FRIDAY

Despite weather conditions which have limited the outdoor practices to a few sessions, confidence in the key players expressed over baseball prospects at Armour Tech.

The coaches have been drilling the fundamentals into the squad the last three weeks, and with a nucleus of several veterans a fast team has been molded. The Techs will swing into action in their initial practice game on the home field Friday afternoon with the American College of Physical Education.

PREPS COMPETE IN PRELIMS OF SWIMS TONIGHT

With a record field of entrants totaling over 150, swimmers of seventeen schools will compete in preliminaries of the third annual national interscholastic at the Illinois A. C. tonight.

Huron Tech, Lane Tech, Parker, Hyde Park, Englewood, Lindbloom, and the Chicago representatives, Seneca and Hyde Park and Lane should be among the leaders.

Out of town schools have manifested keen interest in the meet, and are expected to make a good showing, with the cream of their athletes entered.

BECKETT-COOK TRAIN FOR BOUT

LONDON, April 3.—[United Press.]—Joe Beckett, British heavyweight champion, and George Cook, the Australian, both of whom have been knocked out by Georges Carpentier, are back in strenuous training for their meeting April 18. Beckett, who was forced by illness to postpone the bout recently, says he is in the best of shape. He hopes to finish Cook quickly and use his victory as ground for a bout with Jack Dempsey.

His End of Parse Held Up, Boxer Lands on Official

Trenton, N. J., April 3.—After quitting in the sixth round of a ten round match tonight, "Battling" Johnson of Trenton, exclaiming that he had a wife and children to support, Johnson stopped forward and struck State Boxing inspector Day, when the latter ordered his share of the receipts held up. Johnson was boxing Johnny Murray of New York.

Champion Buff to Meet Joe Lynch in N. Y. May 5

New York, April 3.—Johnny Buff, heavyweight champion, has been scheduled to defend his title against Joe Lynch in a fifteen round bill at Madison Square Garden May 5. The articles of the fight are set for 11:30 pounds at 2 o'clock.

M'CLELLAN SHINES AS SOX GARNER 8-3 WIN

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Chattanooga, Tenn., April 3.—[Special.]—Partly because they knew the opposition was of no account, the White Sox put up a listless exhibition today. They won their battle all right, 8 to 3, but were so long in doing it that they exhausted most of the spectators.

Most of the trouble was with J. P. Davenport, the Arizona southpaw, who passed gentle in such profusion that the Sox athletes would have had to finish by lamplight if Joe Acosta hadn't been sent to the knob after Davenport had floundered around for four innings.

Davenport Too Eager.

Davenport is a kid with a lot of stuff, but he appears to have the failing of wanting to put everything he's got in every pitch. The result is weakness. If he can be taught to ease up in his delivery he might be able to overcome his present deficiency.

The best thing about the game from Gleason's standpoint was the manner in which Harvey McClellan walked the pill. The lad, who has been trying for several years to break in as a regular, collected a couple of hits and slammed two other drives that didn't get him anything except proof that he has his eye on the apple.

Mac in Hitting Stride.

Little Mac has been hitting the pill that way all spring, and has an average of something like .400. Of course, his old failing may crop out later, but he is doing good enough now to be sure of starting the season at third.

The weather was so good this morning that Gleason sent all his extra men out to pre-luncheon practice. Coach Evers directed this work, and the Sox beat it for Knoxville, Tenn., where the games with the Giants will be resumed tomorrow.

CUBS HEADED THIS WAY

Needles, Cal., April 3.—[Special.]—Now that the coast part of the Cub training trip is finished, the observer is justified in saying that Recruit Catcher Charley Hartnett has been the sensation. The Cubs have needed more than anything else a young, hustling backstop, and they have one in Hartnett. It would be surprising now if he failed to start the season as regular catcher.

The pitchers all like to throw to him. He can hit well for a youngster, has the fire of a Schalk, and the coast league managers are unanimous in their praise. Of which he is far from proud. He is a workman, with only one year in professional baseball, but he is expected to improve with experience.

Against San Francisco Last Saturday

encountered four intricate situations where a hit might mean a defeat, and in each case crossed up the batter with an unexpected curve or a slow ball.

Killefer Likes Youngsters.

The Cubs are likely to go all the way to Chicago with the whole staff of outfielders. Killefer is well pleased with the gang of youngsters. Weis, Callaghan, and Thomas, and if any have to be turned loose he wants them to go to a club where they'll do the most good.

Right now it looks as if Grover Alexander would start the season at Cincinnati, and that he would have a good cinnabar.

He looked great, both at Los Angeles and at Frisco, having a fine fast ball and curve. That anything wrong with his control. That anything wrong with his control. That anything wrong with his control.

Today's journey through the desert was a hot one, by long odds the warmest weather of the spring trip. The boys beguiled the time with games of hearts and blind whist.

CUBANS, 9; AMER. GIANTS, 8.

Los Angeles, La., April 3.—Cuban Stars defeated the American Giants, Chicago's color team, here today, 9 to 8. Score by innings: 1-0, 2-0, 3-0, 4-0, 5-0, 6-0, 7-0, 8-0, 9-0. Cubs: 1-0, 2-0, 3-0, 4-0, 5-0, 6-0, 7-0, 8-0, 9-0. Giants: 0-0, 1-0, 2-0, 3-0, 4-0, 5-0, 6-0, 7-0, 8-0.

While the area covered this year will be more restricted than last year's, it is to be worked intensively, and branches of touring, legal, and mechanical departments will be put in as many towns and cities as possible before the beginning of winter.

Woods and Waters

BUCHANAN COUNTY PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION IS A LIVE ORGANIZATION.

It has just received a copy of the booklet issued by the Buchanan County Fish and Game Protective association in Iowa, and it looks as if Iowa were to be congratulated upon having such a live river crowd in the state. According to C. A. Whitmore, the association has more than 300 members.

This manual got up by the association tells of the aims and purposes of it, a creed for sportsmen and a detailed explanation of Iowa's fish and game laws, all of which is mighty valuable dope for distribution throughout the state.

Apparently the sportsmen of Iowa are not satisfied with the present laws regulating the taking of fish and game birds, as a postcard questionnaire sent to all the members of the association shows the majority of them to be in favor of the following changes in the laws:

Legal length for taking pickerel, 15 inches (present law 12 inches).
Legal length for taking catfish, 15 inches (present law 10 inches).
Prohibition of fishing in the Mississippi within a mile of the mouth of rivers entering it, prohibiting the use of a ferret for hunting rabbits.

A combined hunting, fishing and trapping season for men, women and children under 14 years permitted to fish without a license.

In our humble opinion the best little sentence and idea in the whole book is this one: "The man who keeps a small fish—under legal length—is a small man." That sure hits the nail on the head.

SCHAEFER'S TIL WITH COCHRAN IN CHICAGO IN MAY

Walter Cochran, the other young man besides Willie Hoppe who has threatened to be annoying to the Balk Line Champion Schaefer, will have his opportunity to make good his threat in a match with Schaefer in Chicago on May 17, and if he has no shots, Charley Tennes, manager for Schaefer, announced last night that these dates were preferable to others for several reasons, the principal one WELTER COCHRAN, being that May, and I am sure that Schaefer will accept these dates. There is no place that I know of to stage the contest as successfully as Chicago. Incidentally, I don't know of any better place to hold the match than Orchestra hall.

Interest in Chicago.

Schaefer is willing to defend his title against Cochran on the May dates, said Tennes. "That puts it up to Cochran, and I think that Walter will accept these dates. There is no place that I know of to stage the contest as successfully as Chicago. Incidentally, I don't know of any better place to hold the match than Orchestra hall."

"The people of Chicago have awakened to billiards, as was evidenced by the packed houses when Schaefer played Hoppe, and I am sure that the champion and Cochran will play to capacity next month if they get together here."

Schaefer Is Resting.

Cochran at present is visiting in Dowagiac, Mich., and is expected to give his answer within a day or two. Schaefer at present is taking a brief rest at West Baden Springs. The best of health, which has been his since his defeat of Willie Hoppe, is now in excellent condition, according to Tennes.

Tennes is going to make a trip to Kansas City today and while there will meet billiard promoters of several southwestern cities who are anxious for Champion Schaefer to appear in exhibitions. He expects to close for several of these appearances.

POCKET CHAMP HERE TOMORROW

Ralph Greenleaf, world's pocket billiard champion, will arrive tomorrow for his match with Edwin Bush of Chicago at the Palace room, 123 West Madison street. They will play 800 points, 150 each afternoon and night, starting at 2 o'clock tomorrow.

A special table with pockets of championship size has been installed. Ralph is practicing on this and is playing local men 50 or no count, which is a hard task on this kind of table.

WHEAT FUTURES GO UP ON REPORT OF HEAVY RAINS

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Strength in Liverpool wheat, due to the removal of hedges against sales of Argentine grain to Germany and continued wet weather, was responsible for a higher range of values here. While the outside figures were not maintained, wheat closed with net gains of 1 1/2¢, corn 1/2¢, and rye 1/2¢. Oats were unchanged to 1/2¢ higher.

The advance in wheat was confined entirely to the futures, both in this country and abroad. Purchases by Germany of cargoes afloat were estimated at 800,000 to 900,000 bu., but there was no general demand, although after the close it was estimated that close to 1,000,000 bu., mainly Manitoba, had been disposed of, partly for shipment at the opening of navigation.

Corn has commenced to feel the effect of the continued wet and cold weather, which is delaying spring work, and with some buying by cash interests and good export demand, prices advanced readily, although easing off toward the close on profit taking.

While oats averaged higher, the May showed a heavy undertone toward the last and finished 1/2¢ under the July. Rye was dull and influenced mainly by the action of wheat, closing firm. Export bids were out of line. No. 2 on track brought 14 1/2¢ under May.

Expected pressure on provisions failed to develop despite the increase inlard stocks for the month. Shorts were fair buyers and the close was 1/2¢ to 1/4¢ higher on lard and 1/2¢ to 1/4¢ higher on short ribs. Smaller packers sold lard on a fair scale. Prices follow:

CASH GRAIN NEWS

Four European countries were in the market for cash wheat yesterday, England, Germany, France, and Italy bidding for the grain. After the close sales in all positions were reported at 1,000,000 bu., mostly Manitoba, including 500,000 bu. to the United Kingdom for opening of navigation. Numerous bids were received within 12 of a working basis. Italy took some durum and premiums advanced 2¢ to 17¢ over May c. o. f. New York for No. 2 amber, or 5¢ over the figure quoted for No. 2 red or hard winter.

Export sales of corn were 840,000 bu. and oats 30,000 bu. There was also some rye. No sales to the seaboard were reported at Chicago with domestic sales of 10,000 bu. wheat, 50,000 bu. corn, and 60,000 bu. oats.

Demand for cash wheat in the southwest was slow. St. Louis unchanged to 1¢ lower and Kansas City generally unchanged, both markets claiming the outside interest was small and Kansas City carried over around 150 cars. Omaha advanced 1/2¢. At Minneapolis choice springs were unchanged and ordinary 1/2¢ lower as compared with May with considerable elevator grain on the table. At Chicago prices were 1/2¢ higher with difference as to May little changed.

Cash corn advanced 1/2¢ as compared with the May 1/2¢, while at 1/2¢, yellow at 1/2¢, and white at 1/2¢, under the figure. Sample values were 1/2¢ higher, with reds 1/2¢, and outside markets 1/2¢ higher.

Offerings of cash oats were not large and sample values 1/2¢ higher, with No. 2 white 1/2¢ over May and No. 3 white 1/2¢. Range of cash grain prices in leading markets follow:

Live stock values yesterday showed but slight change. Cattle generally sold at last week's prices, nothing being good enough to sell above $9.00. Top hogs reached $10.55, a gain of 5¢ over last week's close. General average price of hogs, $10.15, same as Saturday, and 10¢ above the previous Monday.

Receipts of both cattle and hogs were comparatively small, with arrivals of cattle at outside markets unusually small. After a strong start the local cattle trade closed slow and weak. Hogs sold at best advantage at the start, due to good shipping orders.

Spring lambs go at $19.00. Practically half the 19,000 sheep and lambs received yesterday were consigned direct to packers from outside markets. Lambs met with a good call, selling 10¢ to 25¢ higher, some $4 pound fed westerns reaching $16.25, or within 5¢ of the year's top. Aged native wethers sold up to $11.00 and shorn lambs as high as $11.00. First spring lambs of the season sold at $19.00, or $5.00 above first consignment a year ago.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 9,000 cattle, 20,000 hogs, and 12,000 sheep, against 9,204 cattle, 16,753 hogs, and 16,399 sheep the corresponding Tuesday a year ago.

RAILROAD NOTES

Substantial losses probably will be suffered by the principal railroad companies as a result of the decision of the Interstate Commerce commission which held that the award of contracts for repair of equipment by outside shops was unwarranted. Officials of the commission indicated that the difference between the contract price and the cost of repairing equipment in the shops of each company probably would be deducted from the guaranty payments to be made to the companies by the government.

The average number of railroad employees of class one steam roads for last year was 1,661,201, compared with 2,054,180 in 1920, the interstate commerce commission announced. Compensation of these employees in 1921 was $2,800,896,614, compared with $3,631,396,500 in 1920.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 9,000 cattle, 20,000 hogs, and 12,000 sheep, against 9,204 cattle, 16,753 hogs, and 16,399 sheep the corresponding Tuesday a year ago.

Two Murdered by Bandit in Heart of South Chicago Business District for $8,000

FATHER SLAIN BY BANDIT. Philip Sommer, 56, treasurer of the Royal Building and Loan association, carrying $8,000 to the Calumet National Bank, South Chicago, was murdered in the heart of the business district by one of five bandits. His guard, Policeman Ernest H. Cassidy, 26, was shot down in cold blood. The picture shows Philip Sommer Sr., his son, Philip Jr., Elsie, a daughter, and the widow.

SCENE OF DOUBLE MURDER. Philip Sommer walked slightly ahead of Policeman Cassidy. The bandit car drew up to the curb. One man alighted. The policeman was shot down without saying a word. Mr. Sommer fled to a doorway, which was locked. The bandit caught and killed him, seized the bag of money, and escaped.

SAVED FROM KIDNAPERS. Martha Janicek, 16, yesterday told police how she had been abducted. Seven men are under arrest.

A HECTIC ARGUMENT. Karl Radek, Russian soviet leader, and Emile Vandervelde, Belgian socialist, met in Berlin on their way to the Genoa conference. Vandervelde attacked Radek in so heated a denunciation that Radek retreated behind a chair.

$1 HEART BALM was awarded Miss Nettie Lasser, who sued Abe Bender in the Circuit court here for $50,000 for breach of promise.

SANTA CLAUS MODEL, Paul Manson, famous for his likeness to St. Nick, died in New York.

LOUIS A. HILL, newly appointed head of the Bureau of Printing and Engraving at Washington.

ALICE CLEMENT, policeman, featured in a movie, "Dregs of the City," which was suppressed by the chief.

THE CHALLENGER DEFEATED. Champion Johnny Meyers successfully defended his middleweight title last night by winning a twelve round decision over Challenger Ralph Parcaut of Spencer, Ia., in an uninteresting wrestling contest at the Coliseum. The challenger is shown trying to secure a body lock on the champion in the eighth round, during which he had a scant advantage.

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

POLICEMAN KILLED. Ernest H. Cassidy, shot down and killed without warning in South Chicago.

BANDIT'S GUN. Lieut. Wheeler is examining the revolver with which a bandit murdered two men for $8,000.

MASHING A MASHER. Mrs. A. C. Gambling, Mrs. C. P. Pettingill, Mr. Pettingill and Mr. Gambling (with overcoat on arm) started for a walk. Oliver C. Moore

(next to Gambling) and another "masher" tried to flirt with the two women. Moore was trimmed by the two husbands, arrested and later fined.

MET IN MUNICH; MARRIED HERE. Mr. and Mrs. Louis Grell were married yesterday. He is a well known artist. He met his wife while studying in Bavaria eleven years ago. She has been in this country three days.

SHOPLIFTER? She said her name was Mary Rose of the Drake hotel when arrested.

FINE WOMAN POKER PLAYER. Mrs. Minnie W. Lewski was fined $25 and costs yesterday as the keeper of a poker flat at 227 West North avenue. Six other women and seven men taken in the raid were fined $1 each.

STANDING CHIEFS are Hand Cross, Brown Eagle and Bald Eagle, with some of their tribe members, who will appear with the Sells-Floto circus, starting next Saturday.

HUNGARY'S "BONNIE PRINCE CHARLIE." Ours the eldest son of the late ex-Emperor Charles (shown with his brother Rudolph), is the hope of the royalists who supported his father for the Magyar kingship. Many monarchist factions have candidates in the field, among them Archdukes Frederick and Albrecht, and the regent, Horthy.
